Military Takes Rule; Gunman Of Klan Ousted

Three Principal Towns Of Williamson-co Resemble France In War Days
SOLDIERS DOMINATE STREET
Commanding General Promises To Prevent Recurrence Of Ku Klux Rule

By Associated Press
Herrin, Ill.—Williamson-co for the first time in its history Tuesday felt the iron hand of military discipline and it does not require much imagination to liken it to a bit of country, back of the lines, in war time France.

In the three principal towns of the county, Herrin, Marion and Johnston city, the streets flanked with mounted machine guns howitzers, soldiers with rifles and fixed bayonets, patrolling the streets, motor trucks loaded with soldiers are driving all over the county, even on the out of the way by roads, posting placards telling of the military rule. Red cross stations have been established and the army bugles reveille in the morning, instead of the factory and mine whistles, seems to be the signal of the awakening of the people for another day. While at night after taps has been sounded the noise of the city ceases and the people instinctively turn towards their homes.

The khaki of the soldiers predominates everywhere. Monday night the tramp tramp of marching soldiers and the sharp thud as they came to a halt and their rifle butts hit the ground were the only noises that broke the peaceful quiet.

Major General Milton J. Foreman, commanding general of the third military division and in charge of the troops here, has established his headquarters at the Lyman hotel at Herrin.

POLICE DISAPPEARS
The arrival of the troops saw the departure of the de facto government of the city of Herrin. The several hundred special policemen, who had been patrolling the streets, gradually disappeared and at 5 o'clock Monday night their leader, S. Glenn Young, left Herrin for Marion.

A statement that amounted to an order issued by General Foreman to the citizens of Williamson-co declared the appointments of all special policemen and deputies were revoked and annulled and that from now on as long as the troops remain only those legally elected or appointed will be permitted to enforce the law in the county.

Among the citizenry only duly authorized peace officers will be permitted to carry fire arms, and General Foreman said every word in the statement would be enforced to the letter.

YOUNG'S RULE ENDED
"S. Glenn Young's authority in Williamson-co has ended," the general declared, and when reminded that after the troops that were here in January departed Young returned and resumed his raiding and that he might do the same thing again he said "when the troops leave Williamson-co you may be assured that permanent peace will be a reality and not a dream."

Much of the trouble in this county was attributed by the general to the indiscriminate carrying of guns. He said that the troops would search anyone they wished and will also confiscate any gun found.

The coroner's inquest was to be resumed at the city hall Monday afternoon. After having been in session eight hours Monday, they adjourned over the night.

A number of witnesses have been called to testify but Glenn Young said Monday that his witnesses would not appear until the trial. Young also said that he did not care what verdict the jury returned as he was satisfied they have sufficient evidence to punish the murderers of Constable Caesar Cagle who was killed last Friday night.

FIVE INJURED AS TRAINS COLLIDE
By Associated Press
Davenport, Ia.—Five persons were injured and are at local hospitals as the result of a collision between a northbound Milwaukee freight train and a south bound Burlington passenger train at 5 o'clock Tuesday morning in the eastern part of the city.

Both trains were behind schedule and were traveling at fast rates of speed, the engineer of each believing he had a clear right of way. The two locomotives shoved into one another and were badly damaged. The cars were piled on top of each other and derailed.

CONCLAVE WOULD ORGANIZE PARTY
By Associated Press
St. Louis, Mo.—A resolution adopted Tuesday at the convention of the National Conference for Progressive Political Action calls for a convention of "workers, farmers and progressives" at Cleveland starting July 4, delegates explained. This action "paves the way" for a third major political party.

The resolution sets forth that the convention shall be for the purpose of taking action on the nomination of candidates for the office of president and vice president and on other questions that may come before the convention.

Klan Chief Sells Post To His Rival

By Associated Press
Atlanta, Ga.—Settlement of all differences between William Joseph Simmons, emperor and founder of the Ku Klux Klan, and Dr. Hiram Wesley Evans, imperial wizard of the order, for a consideration of $146,000 paid to Colonel Simmons, was reported by close friends of the parties involved, according to a story appearing Tuesday in the Atlanta Journal.

According to those close to Colonel Simmons and Dr. Evans, the story says, the terms of the compromise are substantially as follows:

1.—Colonel Simmons sold his contract with the Klan for $96,000, constituting eight years' income at the rate of 1,000 per month under the terms of his permanent agreement with the order.

2.—He also received $50,000 for his rights in the Knights of Kamekita, an order similar to the Klan which he founded recently.

Colonel Simmons is said to be in Jacksonville, Fla., attending a conference and in his absence no definite announcement could be obtained as to his part in the transaction, the story declares. Dr. Evans likewise was on a business trip connected with the Klan, according to officials at the imperial palace.

ELEVEN HURT WHEN SPEEDER HITS BOBSLED

Driver Of Sleigh Escapes Uninjured; Crew Of Railway Motor In Hospital

By Associated Press
Ripon.—Eleven persons were injured, five of them seriously, when a motor-driven speeder of the Chicago and Northwestern road crashed into a bobsled at a curve four miles northwest of Ripon late Monday. All of the men injured were on the speeder, and those for whose recovery attending physicians held little hope are: Herman Gneiser, Ripon, internal injuries; Gordon Gneiser, (brother of Herman) internal injuries; Albert Welch, right leg fractured, internal injuries; Fred Schultz, internal injuries; Otto Denzine, internal injuries.

According to reports, the motor speeder just rounded the curve when it bore down upon a bobsled driven by John Sprague, farmer, near Ripon. Several of the crew of the speeder, realizing that a collision with the sleigh was unavoidable jumped. However, their efforts were too late and together with their companions they were buried under the overturning speeder.

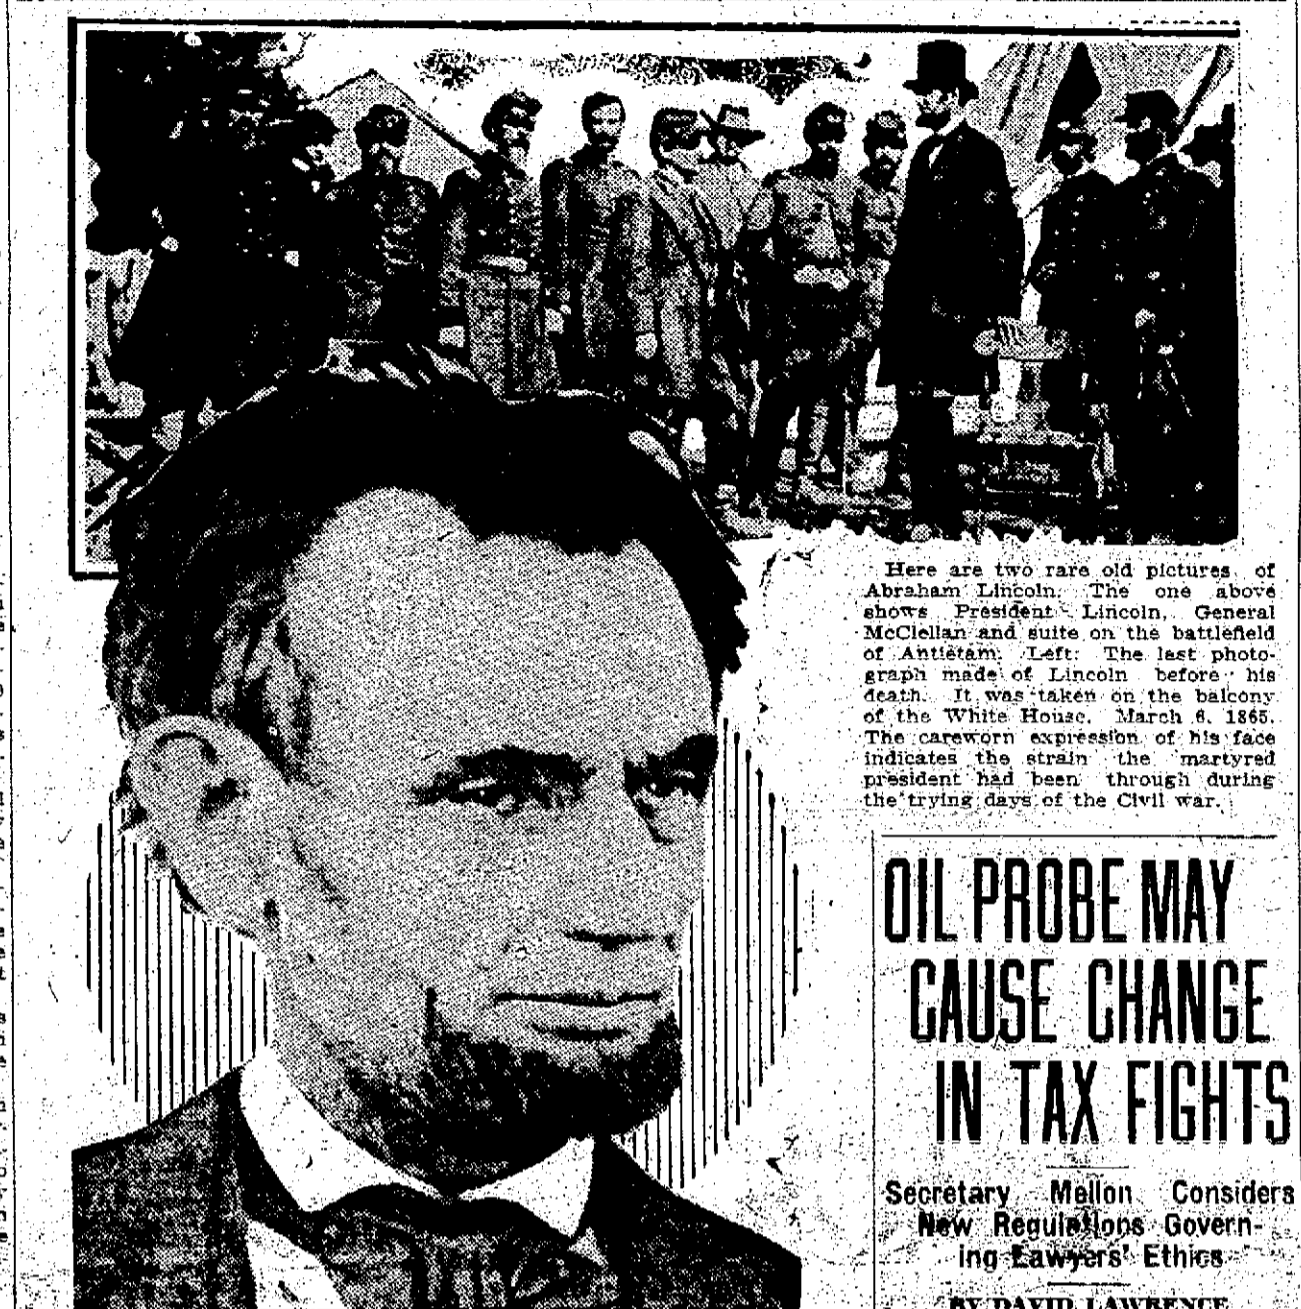

Sprague was unhurt.

Calls for help to Ripon brought out the special caterpillar snow ambulance of Dr. C. U. Senn, who rushed the injured to his laboratory at Ripon where, with the aid of Dr. R. Reisenreich he dressed their wounds and took X-ray photographs to ascertain the seriousness of the fractures.

The accident happened at a curve on the Chicago and Northwestern road, known as Murray's crossing, four miles northwest of Ripon.

Capitol Celebrates Birthday Of Lincoln

Washington.—The capital's celebration of the birth of Abraham Lincoln centered Tuesday in a memorial program in the house and the departure of President Coolidge to New York to address the Lincoln's birthday dinner of the National Republican club. The senate was not in session in observance of the day and a number of its members took part in various exercises arranged by the schools and the patriotic and other organizations.

Calling on "influence of America and the spirit of Abraham Lincoln" to lead "the nations of the world" from the hatreds of the past and the selfishness of the present to the dawn of brighter and better days, Representative Rayburn of Illinois, the memorial speaker in the house, described the Washington arms conference as "epoch making" and suggested that further bounds be "set to the insanity of nations in piling ever higher and higher the expense of armaments."

"Just as Abraham Lincoln has more than any other statesman set the moral standard for men," he declared, "so we hope and believe America, more than any other land, will fix the moral standard for all nations."

Recalling his parents, "were the young engaged couple, Major Rathbone and Alice Harris, the daughter of United States Senator Ira Harris of New York, who drove that fateful night of April 14, 1865, with the President and Mrs. Lincoln in the carriage to Ford's Theatre and sat with them in the box when the bullet of the assassin cut short the life of the president," the speaker recited many incidents in the life of Lincoln.

"I am able to say with the utmost assurance of truth, and judging the words uttered by Lincoln in the presence of these persons in his last hours," said Mr. Rathbone, "that his great heart held nothing but kindness and good will toward all his countrymen, and that in his last moments he was looking forward with the highest hope to an era of happiness and prosperity for all his beloved people, north and south alike."

He also displayed two cherished Lincoln relics, having made a trip to Chicago to bring them here for the occasion. One, a letter written by Lincoln to a political friend shortly after his defeat by Douglas for the senate in 1858, predicted that he would sink out of sight politically, but he was glad he had made the race because of the opportunity given him to champion principles in which he believed. The other was a copy in Lincoln's own handwriting of his favorite poem.

Oh, why should the spirit of mortal be proud? which, according to the story, that goes with it, was his only source of comfort while he grieved for Ann Rutledge.

PROSPERITY SEEN FOR LUMBER TRADE

President Of Retail Dealers Forecasts Year Of Financial Success

Milwaukee.—A more prosperous season for the Wisconsin retail lumbermen was forecast by H. E. Beckwith of Cheatek, president of the association at the opening of the annual meeting of the organization here Tuesday.

Although the business conditions of the past year did not measure up to the standard established by former years, President Beckwith was optimistic over the prospects for 1924. If the retail lumbermen of the state awaken to their opportunities.

Financial conditions in the state are better than in several years, Mr. Beckwith said, pointing to the increase in deposits, especially the savings deposits. The accumulation of loans have been largely liquidated, and with this footing to work on the general financial condition of the farmer is much improved.

MUMMY OF KING TUT IS FOUND IN TOMB
By Associated Press
Luxor, Egypt.—The lid of Tut-an-khamun's sarcophagus was raised Tuesday. It is understood the body of the king was found within.

When the lid was raised there was revealed the most splendid gilded mummy case ever found in Egypt. It is about three meters long.

The mummy case bears an effigy in relief of the king wearing the "hehms" or sacred head dress like that of the Sphinx, decorated with the head of a hawk and a serpent in pure gold set with lapis lazuli. The hands are crossed, one bearing a crook sceptre and the other a flail.

A parthetic touch is given the effigy by a little crown of withered natural flowers set about the gold head dress.

Dismissal Of Official Without Impeachment Is Executive Function

WON'T MAKE SCRAPEGOAT
Executive Would Act With Entire Justice To All Concerned In Case

By Associated Press
Washington.—President Coolidge will take "no official recognition" of the senate's resolution advising him to demand the resignation of Secretary Denby because of his connection with the leasing of the reserve.

The Robinson resolution calling for the naval secretary's resignation was adopted by the senate late Monday by a vote of 41 to 34 and sent immediately to the White House. A statement announcing the president's refusal to take such action was issued four hours later.

"The dismissal of an officer of the government such as is invited in the other than by impeachment," he declared, "is exclusively an executive function."

Only when "special counsel can advise me as to legality of such action" and assemble the pertinent facts in the various transactions," he said, will he "take such action as seems essential for the full protection of the public interest, acting with entire justice to all parties concerned."

"I do not propose to sacrifice any innocent man for my own welfare," he asserted, "nor do I propose to retain in office any unfit man for my own welfare."

OIL PROBE MAY CAUSE CHANGE IN TAX FIGHTS
Secretary Mellon Considers New Regulations Governing Lawyers' Ethics

By David Lawrence
Copyright 1924 By The Post Pub. Co.
Washington.—The Teapot Dome oil controversy has begun to have effects in questions entirely unrelated to oil. Talk of an investigation of the relations between lawyers and their clients who have income tax disputes with the treasury has been going on for several days. Meanwhile Secretary Mellon and the commissioner of the Internal Revenue, D. E. Blair, have under consideration the issuance of a new set of regulations governing the practice of lawyers before the treasury department.

One of the regulations undoubtedly will provide that no former employee of the income tax unit may appear before the department in behalf of any client whose case originated while the lawyer was on the payroll of the United States government and handled that case. Another will provide that no cases may be handled which originated more than two years before the employee left the department unless the explicit permission of the secretary of the treasury is given.

WILL BE DISBARRED
The ethics of the American Bar association is to be incorporated in the regulations so that any lawyer appearing before the treasury will have to state whether he has read the regulations and whether he is conforming to them. The punishment for violation will be the disbarment of these lawyers from practicing again before the treasury department.

Some of those who wish to make the regulations drastic insisted that no former employee of the income tax unit should ever be permitted to practice before that particular unit but objections were raised to this on the theory that many innocent would suffer a hardship, being unable to make use of their experience on technical questions.

There have been some flagrant cases in which employees of the government with a knowledge of the inside of some big tax question in dispute have resigned and gone to the assistance of the taxpayer for a considerable fee. There have been other cases in which a treasury employee while handling a case with a big business concern has led to a resignation after the case was closed and the employment of the treasury expert in the business of the firm affected.

Many former officials of the treasury as well as former members of congress are practicing before the treasury department and unquestionably nine out of ten are obeying the ethics of their profession, but the murmurs of criticism which lately have been heard caused the secretary of the treasury and the commissioner of internal revenue to anticipate action by congress and formulate rules and regulations which would meet all criticism.

What the treasury department does may become the standard form for the other departments of the government. Realizing the public demand for clean government, lobbyists and unethical lawyers will have a hard time in the national capital in the next few months. The Teapot Dome scandal has done some good where it was least expected.

The latest discovered robbery was at the Omaha ticket office Monday when a safe containing $416.08 in cash, express orders and checks were stolen. This is the second time that thieves have entered the office.

During the last week, Superior police have received reports of four stolen automobiles, two mail bags, and numerous automobile accessories.

Big Bargain Week Opens Here Feb. 16

Here is something for bargain seekers.

A great week of bargains, in which one dollar will do the work of two, will start on Feb. 16 and continue until Feb. 23. Merchants are preparing to give shoppers bargains which will eclipse anything ever offered in this community.

The entire week will be given over to greatly reduced prices. Preparations have been started to make this week of bargains the most successful in the history of Appleton's many exceptional bargains.

Enormous publicity will be given the week by the Post-Crescent which has arranged for extra circulation in Neenah, Menasha and other communities. This means that shoppers in a large area will be interested and big crowds will be attracted to the city.

Merchants are doing their share by marking down their prices to almost unbelievable levels. They are making an honest effort to move their stock by cutting prices that will mean substantial savings to buyers.

COOLIDGE WILL ADDRESS G. O. P. CLUB TUESDAY

Speech Will Be First Important One Since Inaugural Message To Congress

By Associated Press
Washington.—President Coolidge left Washington at 11:23 A. M. Tuesday for New York where he will address the National Republican club.

The trip of President and Mrs. Coolidge to New York is their first departure since they entered the white house.

Not since last Aug. 11, when the president and his wife returned from the funeral of President Harding at Marion, O., have they been more than a few miles outside of Washington. Only once have they been outside the District of Columbia and that was early last fall when they went to the nearby Virginia city of Alexandria to attend the laying of the cornerstone of the national Masonic memorial there.

The address to be delivered Tuesday night has been carefully prepared by Mr. Coolidge. It is his first important address as president outside of his message to congress, and while he does not regard it as a political address, its reception by the country would be eagerly awaited by managers of his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

The president will speak about 5 o'clock and will be heard by several million people outside the banquet hall through the medium of the radio. His address will be broadcasted by station WEAJ in New York and WCAP in Washington. Several engagements, mostly of minor importance were listed for the president before his departure, but the Tuesday cabinet meeting was cancelled. One cabinet member, Postmaster General Nease and Mrs. Nease, is accompanying the president and Mrs. Coolidge. Other members of the small party as announced were Representative Snell of New York and Mrs. Snell and C. Bascom Slomp, secretary to the president.

STATE CAN'T TAX FOREIGN STOCKS
Supreme Court Rules Inheritance Tax Law Is Unconstitutional

By Associated Press
Madison.—State inheritance tax provisions, assessing inheritance taxes upon the transfer of non-resident decedents holding stock in foreign corporations was held to be unconstitutional and contrary to the fourteenth amendment of the federal constitution in a decision handed down by the Wisconsin Supreme Court Tuesday morning.

The decision was rendered in connection with the estate of Annie Rockwell Shepard.

In holding that the state has no authority to levy inheritance taxes on stock in foreign corporations, the court declared that stock in corporations is personal property and that such is located at the point of domicile of the owner or at the point of principal business of the company.

The couple was married on Sept. 14, 1897, and separated last November. The plaintiff is 36 years of age and the defendant 32.

HERE IS A SINGER WHO HAS REMAINED MARRIED 15 YEARS

The last number of the Community Artist series will be given in Lawrence Memorial chapel on Tuesday, Feb. 19, when the noted prima donna, Florence Easton, sings her concert. Miss Easton is one of the greatest sopranos of the present time and her concerts have been attended by crowds of admirers. In many places where she has appeared before, Miss Easton sings to crowds so large that chairs have to be placed on the stage.

It may interest those people in Appleton who like to know something about an artist personally that Miss Easton has been married for more than 15 years to one man, Francis MacLennan, the well known tenor. It is the MacLennan's claim that it is not necessary for artists to be unhappily married or to sacrifice their marital happiness to their professions. Miss Easton met Mr. MacLennan in London where both were playing in an opera company. They were married in 1904 and made a special promise to each other about their marriage vows at that time. They decided that it was just as important to be happily married as it was to become famous in their work, so they agreed that neither would accept any contract which would separate them for any great length of time. They have kept this promise to each other and while it seemed to be disadvantageous at times, they give it as a reason of their happiness.

The artist has said often that if artists would work as hard to make successful marriages as they do to hold their own in their professions, there would be fewer divorces. Miss Easton was born in London but went to Toronto when very young.

DIRECTOR OF RECREATION GUIDANCE WILL COME BACK

Miss Josephine Randall, field secretary for the Playground and Recreation Association of America, telephoned from Manitowoc on Monday to learn what action was taken by the board of directors of the chamber of commerce in regard to Appleton playgrounds. She will be in Waukesha and Madison for the next two weeks and then will return to Appleton for a few days in order to assist with further details of the plans.

The chamber of commerce directors voted in favor of supervised playgrounds and recommended a budget of $1,000 for that purpose.

Artillery Band Donates Services For Wilson. Eulogy in Chapel

With 121st Field Artillery band donating its services and leading the line of march, Appleton veterans of the World War clad in uniform, will march from Elk hall to Lawrence Memorial chapel Wednesday evening to attend the memorial services for the late president, Woodrow Wilson.

Members of Oney Johnston post promised at their meeting in Elk hall Monday evening to turn out in large numbers for this service. They were told in talks that Wilson not only was their great leader and commander-in-chief of the armies and navies during the World War, but also was a member of American Legion post No. 1, Washington, D. C. An order issued from national legion headquarters stipulated that all legionnaires join in eulogizing the departed president.

LINCOLN AND WILSON

This is the anniversary of the birth of Lincoln. There is perhaps no other day, not even the anniversary of American Independence which so reaches the spiritual side of America as "Lincoln's birthday." Everyone knows the main incidents of Lincoln's life. Everyone knows his qualities of heart and mind. Everyone knows his surpassing love of country. Everyone knows why Lincoln is beloved and why he is so great an inspiration to the nation.

Another great American passed to his reward on February third. There has been a general association of the names of Lincoln and Wilson in the tribute that has been paid to the memory and life of the late president. The similarities of character between Lincoln and Wilson have been pointed out, but in most ways they were of essentially different temperament in the broad sense, however, they held to identically the same principles of government and human relations.

There is this one striking likeness of Lincoln and Wilson. It is all important, because in the background it controlled every act and every thought of each. Lincoln said: "Whatever is inherently right will win." Wilson said: "The thing is right; and the right will prevail."

Here we have the underlying force in the lives of these two great martyrs. That is their "sameness." It was not with them what was expedient, or popular, or politically gainful when it came to momentous decisions; it was, what was right. That is why Wilson's policies and purposes are unassailable just as were Lincoln's, because they square with conscience, christianity and right. That is why in the end they will prevail. Why the puny figures on the stage who have obstructed and confounded them will in due time be swept away as of no consequence in the life of the nation. We shall get the same spiritual stimulation from the recurrence of anniversaries associated with Woodrow Wilson that we receive from those associated with Abraham Lincoln.

LICENSE AUTOMOBILE DRIVERS

So far this year there have been more automobile accidents in the principal cities than in the first forty days of last year. If the present rate continues all year, as it is likely to, the casualty list will be the largest on record. It is now of a size that puts the railroad slaughter of twenty years ago in the shade. Reckless driving seems to continue to increase. Drunken driving goes on without abatement, and people are killed and maimed every day in prodigious numbers.

We imagine that Wisconsin is a fair sample of other states in the regulation of the automobile. There are some states which have more stringent regulations and enforce what they have better, and there are some which fall below our standards. It is a matter of common knowledge, however, that regulation of motor traffic in Wisconsin is not what it should be. Nor is enforcement of law what it should be. The law requiring the dimming of lights is not enforced at all. Drunken driving is tolerated to an outlandish extent. The speeder and the careless driver, and the one who goes out on the road with not a brain cell working, continues to get by. If he is caught he pays a light fine and does the same thing over again.

We need stricter laws and rigid enforcement of all laws that pertain to the automobile. One of our greatest needs is the licensing of every driver, with a provision in the law that those guilty of reckless driving or other serious infractions of regulation imposed for public safety shall be deprived of their licenses and right to drive for a period of time, depending upon the gravity of the offense. The law should be as specific as a law of that character can be, so that the minimum of discretion shall be allowed courts in interpreting and enforcing the law. Such a law is indispensable to sound regulation of the automobile. It is indispensable to public safety. Public pressure should be brought at the next session of the legislature to see that an act of this kind is put on the statute books.

EXPEDITE ON ST. LAWRENCE SEAWAY

Public opinion in Canada is rapidly coming around to the American point of view on the proposal to connect the Great Lakes with the Atlantic ocean via the St. Lawrence river. Montreal at first was inclined to oppose the undertaking, but sentiment even there has been undergoing a change, as that city is beginning to realize that the extension of ocean traffic into the Great Lakes will not reduce its importance as a port. Public opinion in western and central Canada is strongly in favor of the improvement. The International Joint Commission which is considering general plans for making a seaway of the St. Lawrence river recommends that an expert commission be appointed at once to consider what engineering work is necessary. The Canadian government urges the American government to act promptly on these recommendations.

All indications are that the ground is being rapidly cleared for definite steps toward authorizing this great public work. We have no doubt the American government will proceed just as rapidly with the enterprise as the Dominion. During the last few months there have been so many indorsements of the project by various organizations throughout the country, as well as by members of congress themselves, that we believe there is already a majority vote ready for the proposal whenever it can be put into definite shape for authorization and appropriation.

Undoubtedly both of the great parties will indorse the St. Lawrence seaway in their national conventions. Since it is inevitable that this water development is to be put through, because of the simple fact that it is nationally an economic necessity, it follows that every effort should be made to expedite it and commence work at the earliest possible moment.

SENATOR WALSH

Senator Walsh of Montana stands out among compromising and lime lighting public officers as a faithful, fearless servant of the people. It is not only the persevering industry, the unwavering determination and the masterly legal ability of the man which impresses the public, but his disregard of personal considerations. He is alike to friend, foe and colleagues. He is not partisan in his conduct of the oil lease investigation.

The course he is taking is not the lucrative one. He is not the sort of lawyer who would advise clients how to evade the law, and it is not likely that he could obtain highly remunerative corporation practice, even if he sought it. The only reward which seems to be in prospect for him is the satisfaction of having done his duty thoroughly. But this is, after all, the greatest reward.

TODAY'S POEM
By Berton Briley

LINCOLN

A little awkward and a little rough,
Yet fit to walk with commoners or kings.
A heart that leapt at homely, simple things
And yet a spirit made of sterner stuff.
Wistful and fond, yet adequate and strong
To bear the burdens which grim fortune brings;
A high imagination on whose wings
He soared beyond the passions of the throng.

He was the very soul and sublimation
Of that America he died to save,
In him we read the genius of a nation
Stalwart and tender, humorous and grave,
By fate unmoved, by love and pity swayed,
Masterful, whimsical—and unafraid!

THE ONLY DISEASE CAUSED BY COLD

Although there still is no such disease as a "cold" in the head or any other part of the body, there is no denying that exposure to cold, wet feet and the like cause one disease, which is the only cold disease cold ever does cause, namely, frostbite.

Early winter has been so mild this year that I shall take just a slight cold in the feet for my topic. That is chilblain.

Chilblain is a mild or first degree frostbite. It may be compared with a mild or first degree burn, which is one that reddens the skin and causes considerable smarting, pain, or itching but does not blister. If blisters form it is a second degree burn. Sometimes blisters form on the fingers and toes, but as a rule they do not. If it is a third degree burn, and that would be comparable with severe frostbite which destroys the frozen tissues and produces gangrene.

In most instances chilblain consists of erythematous (flushed or reddened) patches about the heels and borders of feet, or patches upon the fingers, and the region of the nose. The region affected is cold, tender, and when exposed to heat burns or itches intensely. It occurs chiefly in persons who have a poorly trained or over-coddled vasomotor apparatus—persons who harbor the fancy that the body warmth is maintained by the amount of clothing worn and by the temperature of the air and who consequently weaken their own vasomotor apparatus by relying too much upon these artificialities which after all, have nothing to do with the warmth of the body.

Having thrown the foregoing argument off my chest, I'm going to do an imitation of a health officer who teaches the simple public that "all so-called colds are caused by infection from person to person" and then warns the still simple public to be careful not to get caught in a draft or go out without heavy underwear. I'm going to recommend the wearing of nice woolen stockings as a means of preventing chilblain. This isn't so very consistent as it might seem at first blush, for, if I didn't frankly admit that the cause of chilblain is the cold, I wouldn't be talking about it. The individual who is susceptible to, or, if you will be sure not to misunderstand, takes cold in his feet—we've got to treat him gently, coddle him along. Those of us who do not believe in taking cold even in the feet need not encase our feet or any of the rest of our body in wool if we don't think it comfortable. The amount and kind of clothing which is most comfortable for the individual is certainly most hygienic for that individual in all circumstances.

The shoes should be loose, for everybody knows that tight shoes make the feet cold and interfere with circulation. Cork insoles are useful in the prevention of chilblain if the feet sweat at all. Sweating of the feet must be kept to a minimum. If one is subjected to chilblain, that treatment in another story. Rubber is cold on the feet and should be avoided. Iron nails or pegs in the heels and soles tend to chill the feet. Tight garters must be avoided, and indeed neither the limb nor the body constricted in any way by clothing.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

The City Water. I understand it is being added to the city water supply. Something similar and I would greatly appreciate any information you might give regarding any harm this might do certain individuals who do not require iodine. Ever since they began doing that I have almost lost my appetite. I have severe headaches and extremely dry on my face and waking. Has iodine suffered from any of these things? As I teach school, I need some more and if I should not drink this kind of water, distilled, instead, I should like to be informed.—W. J. E.

Answer—I do not know whether iodine is added to the city water in your city. Some cities are practicing this, notably Rochester, N. Y., during part of the year. The iodine would not produce any serious effects, and certainly not the troubles you describe. Besides supplying a much needed iodine ration in this way, the use of minute quantities of iodine in the water supply is valuable as a disinfectant, and the taste of the iodine in the water is rather less noticeable than the taste of chlorine which is generally used for the disinfection of municipal water nowadays.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

A note in memoriam to Lincoln, because it's his birthday today.

Rare deeds this great man has done. A man of great patriotism, they say. He is enemies he forgave with unselfish nature.

A man of great qualities of head and of heart. He was shown toward not even a creature.

Lincoln was known for his strict honesty. In business, in pleasure, in war. Now can you mention a better policy. Can you think of a man greater by far?

On no occasion did Lincoln protest? Labor was his chief happiness. Now let us follow his example to our best.

—Salesman Harry.

"Speaking of Lincoln," asked Chevy Charles, "did he have a son named Henry?"

"No," said Mac, "you're thinking of automobiles."

Help! Assistance!

ROLLO—Although equal distribution of load is now an accepted principle, Nature makes us shovel both coal and snow in the same season. Let's see the efficiency experts correct it.

A Nonny Muss.

Once upon a time we heard of an alderman who was not afraid to commit himself on any piece of far reaching legislation one month before election time. But what makes you think, Rollo, that the city council will tackle before the spring election? How long have you lived in Appleton? From now on until April 2 there will be lots of "routine business"; yes, lots of it—perhaps even more than that.

As the days grow longer the winter grows shorter. First thing you know we will look around and say, "Well, here is spring." Seems hardly credible, though, after two postponements of the ice tournament.

Dear Rollo: Will you please warn the city fathers that if there is to be any mud slinging in the spring election that it be confined to the road to the Cherry at bridge? That's the only place we need it, except for the small supply we will want for the plant boxes John Conway is going to donate for ornamentation of the bridge at the time we have the grand opening.

Some Sherlock Holmes applied the magnifying glass to a post card photo of a mail box almost hidden by a huge snow drift and found Rollo's name on it. Now we know why so much of our mail has been misdirected. It's been going to a patron on Rural Route No. 2.

(This article accompanied a ballot in the Bok peace plan referendum which was returned to the Post-Crescent.)

Peace! Peace!

The greatest thinkers of today declare with David Lloyd George—there is no statesman able to pronounce such peace measures as would be effective for any length of time or endure the test.

We must sympathize with the disheartening disillusionment which the American peace negotiators experienced when they went to Paris expecting that brotherly love and international friendship would be the order of the day.

The world seems to have gleaned no lesson from this past war, when it is saturating the smoldering embers of the late conflagration with hatred and mistrust and the supreme factor in the chancelleries of the nations is suspicion, jealousy and selfishness—where does the peace look promising?

What is going to be accomplished by the intellectual fencing of those opposing master-brains? Their efforts are futile. The world is sick indeed and its malady is beyond the power of the ablest statesmen.

It is well to turn our attention to the prophesies in the bible—it so unerringly foretold the history of the world down through the ages, just as it has come to pass and it has not left us without light on conditions in this trying period of today. It reads in substance, "When the nations shall say peace, peace—then there is no peace." They shall say "let us beat our swords into plowshares" while they are doing just the opposite. Is not the most wonderful genius in each nation bent on inventions which might be employed in rendering war more deadly?

Peace! that wonderful gift in the human heart—the home of the nation and in the world—who does not want it! But when the lowly golden rule has been twisted into a Rule of Gold—when war seems inevitable and mortals are to be denied life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness which our noble forefathers struggled to bequeath to us, why not aim to have it participated in by those only who have through an incorruptible ballot, vote to give their manhood and finances to conduct it? If such could be the universal ruling in every country—war would claim but a small band if any—and they would be real ones.

Since the world was peopled and has had the two emotions or forces—good and evil—God has given us a free will to choose—we are experimenting with sin to a great extent and war is its most cruel demonstration. Who can deny that the evil power is permitted to try out its experiment?

Through all these never-ending tribulations upon which we have only entered and of which the Almighty said—"man's heart fails him in looking at the things that are coming" he gives absolute assurance to those that are pure in spirit, to reestablish his original plan on this earth made new, when we through our experiment with sin have wearied utterly before its dominion, have repented before it is too late and are ready to welcome the Prince of Peace as the approved and lasting survivor of evil, which is rushing on to its own destruction.

Clara Steffensen.

Q. Has Mrs. Harding an active interest in the Marion Star? G. A. H.

A. Mrs. Harding retains an interest "financial, official, and editorial" in the Marion Star. She expects to act as associate editor and write for it over her own signature.

Q. Where is the oldest university in existence? L. C. L.

A. The famous University of Bologna at Bologna, Italy, was founded in the eleventh century. Its foundation by "Theodorus the Great" in 455 A. D. is legendary. This is the oldest university in the world. The University of Paris is the next oldest. Harvard is the oldest university in the United States.

Q. What does soteria mean? G. J. D.

A. The use of soteria in English is new. It is a Greek word which means salvation. It derives its meaning from two other Greek words, one meaning deliverance or safety; the other, to rescue from danger. Therefore the English word may well have the full meaning of safe deliverance from danger.

Q. What is the state religion of France? E. G.

A. France has no state religion. The church and state are entirely separate. While there are a large number of Roman Catholics in the country, particularly in the South, the Protestant religion also is followed.

Q. When was cotton introduced into the United States? D. F. D.

A. The first English settlers in America found some cotton grown by the natives. The first authentic record of cotton cultivation in the United States was at Jamestown, Va., in 1607.

Q. What is the origin of the expression "cat's paw"? L. G.

A. There is a fable in which a monkey used a cat's paw to draw roast chestnuts from the fire. This fable gave rise to the use of the term "cat's paw" for dupe or tool.

Q. Can fruit trees be saved that have been tried by mice or rabbits? F. A. C.

A. The Department of Agriculture says that fruit trees that have been injured thus may be saved by bridge grafting. A bridge graft is made by using scions to connect the two portions of the bark of a stock or limb which have been separated by the injury. The injured area is "bridged" by scions, the ends of which unite with the uninjured parts above and below the wound in such manner that a connection between the tissues is established. Bridge grafting is done in the early spring about the time the trees are starting into growth, the same as in cleft grafting for the purpose of top-working. It does not matter whether the trees to be bridge grafted have started slightly, but it is of great importance that the scions be perfectly dormant. The chances of success are materially decreased if the buds on the scions have started appreciably. It is often necessary to secure the scions some time in advance of the time they are to be used in order to have them in a dormant condition when needed, storing them meanwhile where they will not dry out and where it is cool enough to keep them dormant.

Chesapeake Bay
Busy Fish Center

Fishing is the one big industry of the Chesapeake Bay, and Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York offer ready markets for fish in quantities. Washington, Annapolis and other cities are good retail markets.

Commercial fishermen begin their season with the coming of the herring in the early Spring. Shad follow the herring.

Then come the rock or striped bass and sea trout. Croakers, hardhead, trout, bass, crappie, pike, catfish and perch are caught in the bay and rivers running into it.

Shad and herring are caught in traps or pound nets. These are enormous affairs, called by a large outfit of men. They are also captured in drift nets, gill nets and fykes—the same equipment used to catch the smaller or less plentiful fish.

Fish are readily caught on hook and line, but the commercial fisherman depends upon his nets even when after the game fish. Crabs, eels and oysters help the fisherman out financially. The oyster fisherman on a small scale uses a pair of oyster-tongs to pick the bivalve from its resting place. An expert tonger can gather 30 or 40 bushels in a day where oysters are plentiful.

Eels are caught in wicker coil-pots; crabs, by "trotlines" and a hand net. Havre-de-Grace is a good shad fishing point. Salmon's Island for croakers and sea trout. Connetquot for oysters. Southern waters of the Potomac for pike and bass. Fishing in fact is good anywhere.—Howard A. Shannon, in Adventure Magazine.

Gives Credit to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Hopes Other Women Will Benefit by Her Experience

Skowhegan, Maine. "I was sick most of the time and could not get about. I was unable to do any work without being all tired out so I would have to lie down. One day when I was reading the paper I saw the Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertisement and saw what it did for other women, so I thought I would try it. I have taken three bottles, and cannot begin to tell you what it has already done for me. I do all my work now and keep up the whole day long without lying down. I have no more headaches or tired feelings. I hope every woman who takes the Vegetable Compound will get as much benefit out of it as I have."—Mrs. PERCY W. RICHARDSON, R. F. D. You have just read how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped Mrs. Richardson. She gave it a trial after she saw what it had done for other women. For nearly fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been doing good.

SCHOOL 'PEPPED' UP FOR GAME WITH MENASHA QUINTET

Students Hopeful Kaukauna Will Be Entered In Basketball Tournament

Kaukauna—"Pep and more pep" is the slogan this week in Kaukauna high school. Full of enthusiasm over the victories of their basketball team, students of the high school are making every effort to back the team with a 100 per cent attendance at the home games. The crowd at last Friday evening's battle numbered close to 500 persons and was perhaps the largest crowd ever squeezed into the auditorium.

Boys' and girls' ticket squads are competing in the sale of tickets for the game Thursday evening with Menasha. It will be the last home game until March 7. The event will be put on Thursday evening on account of the Lyceum course Friday evening.

The Menasha boys defeated Kaukauna in their first meeting at Menasha on Jan. 11, but the score was close and in the return encounter here Thursday the Orange and Black expects to meet Menasha out completely.

The loyal students are requiring all others to show their colors and are causing everyone to sport little diamond shaped lapel tags with the description "beat Menasha and go to the tournament." Pep meetings will be largely in order this week. Although the students displayed wonderful pep at the last two games they did not entirely cooperate with the volunteer cheer leader. During the next few days, however, an effort will be made to secure a little team work in yelling. Howard Cox and Lloyd McCarty have been chosen cheer leaders and will do their stuff Thursday evening all dolled out in uniforms of white trousers and orange and black sweaters. Several pep songs are being learned and will be sung to the accompaniment of music furnished by the school orchestra.

REPORT PROGRESS ON MIDWINTER FAIR

Kaukauna—The Association of Commerce will hold its regular weekly meeting at 6 o'clock Thursday evening in the council rooms. Progress of the committee arranging the mid-winter fair probably will be reported. Included in the business to be transacted will be a report of John Coppes, chairman of the committee appointed to start plans for a winter carnival to be held on the municipal ice rink.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS HOLD LINCOLN PROGRAMS

W. terpool gave a talk after which a review of the life of Lincoln was given by Miss Wilma Klumb. Lincoln's Gettysburg address was read by La Vern Rabideau. Singing by the students interspersed the numbers.

Patriotic songs by the students opened the program in the east assembly room. "Life of Lincoln" was given by Harold Keller. "The Perfect Tribute" was read by Byron Belsel and James McFadden.

FARMERS FLOCK TO MONTHLY FAIR

Break Snowstorm Isolation By Coming To Seymour To Trade

Seymour—Monday was a big day at the Seymour monthly stock fair. Farmers who had been snowed in for more than a week took advantage of the mild weather and came out in numbers to sell livestock and produce, do their shopping and transact other business. Offerings in small lots were light, mostly because of the difficulty in hauling loads over the country roads.

The Green Bay and Western passenger train usually due here at 10:30 in the morning was about two and a half hours late Monday due to a breakdown of the engine. A special engine was sent to Seymour to take away the cars of livestock.

Another snowstorm visited this locality Saturday, accompanied by a high wind which caused considerable drifting. The snow was piled higher and some roads were made almost impossible for traffic.

POSTPONE ENTERTAINMENT

Miss Grace Berry is sick at her home but is recovering.

August Stritzel, Sr., pioneer of town of Seymour, is seriously ill with pneumonia at his home. Members of his family have been summoned to his bedside.

There will be no material reduction in the great toll of accidents until every person applies the rules of safety to himself and guides his actions on the idea that what has happened to someone else may happen to him. M. G. Hoyman, safety director for the Kimberly-Clark Co., declared in address before the Lions club at the regular meeting Monday noon in the Conway hotel. Striking progress has been made in industry to eliminate accidents because safety has been made a personal matter—workmen have been induced to apply safety rules to their personal conduct—Mr. Hoyman said.

The great majority of people, as they read and hear of accidents, unconsciously feel that they themselves are immune from the same kind of misfortune, that what has happened to someone else will not happen to them. But in the great law of averages every person is in more or less danger and this danger can be lessened only by extra precaution.

ACCIDENTS REDUCED
My Hoyman presented figures to show that in 1922 there were 75,000 fatal accidents in the United States and in 1923 the number had been increased to 80,000. Automobiles claimed the largest toll. Of the 14,000 persons killed by automobiles in 1922, at least one-third were children under 15 years of age Mr. Hoyman said.

Results of safety work in the mills of the Kimberly-Clark Co. were described by Mr. Hoyman. Prior to 1919, in the company's mill at Niagara where about 650 persons are employed, the accidents averaged about ten a month. In 1921, the second year of the safety movement there were only 12 accidents in the entire year and in 1923 there were only 5. Similar reductions have been shown by other mills.

9,000 BOOKS LOANED BY LIBRARY IN MONTH

Nearly 6,000 Books Of Fiction Taken Out In January, Report Shows

Exactly 9,023 books were circulated among patrons of Appleton Public Library last month, according to report by Miss Florence Day, librarian, at the monthly meeting of the library board in the city hall. The report showed that 132 books were added to the adult department and 43 to the children department, making a total of 175 new books put into circulation in the past month.

Of the 9,023 books that were loaned, 1139 volumes of non-fiction were borrowed by adults and 1505 volumes of non-fiction were loaned to children. Adults borrowed 3,965 volumes of fiction, while the children's demand for fictions amounted to 2,024 books. Unbound periodicals to the number of 210 were used by adults, the children only borrowing 24. Older people were the only ones who asked for foreign books of this type, 156 volumes were loaned. There are at present 19,564 books on the shelves of the library.

There are 7,242 persons in Appleton using the library, 370 who do not live in the city limits, but who do live in the county and only 38 who do not live in the county.

Many persons are taking advantage of the offer to loan pictures for 111 were taken out during the last month. The same is true of clippings, for 104 were borrowed by library visitors. Seven books were received as gifts.

Check Transactions In Appleton Reached Huge Total Of $103,900,872

More Than $10,000,000 Increase In Business By Check Over Previous Year, C. of C. Report Shows

A healthy business condition in Appleton is reflected in the increased banking activities of the year 1923. Statistics on check transactions, as compiled by the Appleton Chamber of Commerce for the Babson charts show an increase of 12 per cent over the amount of money in circulation in the previous year.

Check transactions, which are in a sense a barometer to the sales of a community, last year totaled $103,900,872, as compared with $92,649,268 for the year 1922. Nearly a million dollars more per month was circulated in checks.

At no time was the monthly amount lower than $8,000,000, although this occurred six times in both 1922 and 1923. Twice the amount exceeded $9,000,000, a mark not reached in 1922. This was in March and October, federal income tax time and harvest time. The low mark was $8,140,132, as compared with the low mark of $6,542,323 in 1922. The highest mark was $9,413,923 which was recorded in March. The high mark of $9,460,069 in March 1921 was not reached, but this explained by the fact that the council in that year extended the tax paying time an extra 30 days.

The amounts of checks written month by month are as follows: January, $8,728,904, February $8,140,132, March $9,413,923, April $8,296,752, May $8,982,682, June $8,713,002, July $8,612,576, August $8,609,592, September $8,416,980, October $9,014,440, November $8,298,551, December $8,663,358.

According to the last bank statement as of Dec. 31, 1923, bank payments of the First National bank, Citizens National bank, Appleton State bank and Outagamie County state bank, had $4,131,653.37 in their accounts on that day.

On the same date the depositors were getting interest on $2,647,267.35 in savings accounts and $1,796,522.89 on certificates of deposit. Deposits of all kinds, both time and demand, on that day amounted to $9,038,541.53. Deposits of the First Trust company are included in the amounts.

Appleton banking institutions now have resources of $12,076,196.44. The combined capital is $1,000,000 and the surplus and undivided profits $660,512.59. The book value of real estate is $281,387.24 and that of furniture and fixtures $36,389.52.

Following are the combined capital, surplus and undivided profits of the several institutions: First National bank, $304,580.13; First Trust company, $232,247.28; Citizens National bank, $373,987.67; Appleton State bank, $188,720.22; Outagamie County bank, $60,977.29.

AGREE TO ADOPT FIRE STANDARDS

Little Chute And Kaukauna Ready To Join In Making Couplings Uniform

Two more Fox River Valley communities have given encouragement to the movement started by the chamber of commerce to obtain uniform hose couplings for all fire departments. They are Kaukauna and Little Chute.

A letter received by the chamber from M. VanHoof, clerk of the village of Little Chute, declares that the standard fire coupling has been adopted by the board and the fire department will be so equipped.

Kaukauna officials also informed the chamber that that city could be counted upon to have such couplings that help would be assured in case of a bad fire.

Appleton fire department will make the change if the council will give its sanction. This will leave only two cities that have not committed themselves definitely to the plan. They are Oshkosh and Green Bay. The former had some fear of the expense that might be involved, and the latter said no action would be taken at this time, although officials declared eventually this must be done.

SOLITE A PERFECT GASOLINE Is One Year Old

And during that year it has won a place for itself in the minds of thousands of motorists who desired quick, snappy action from their machines, and who had not been able to get it through the use of so-called "high-test" gasolines.

For years, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been importuned to put a high-test gasoline on the market, but refused to do so because they knew their patrons could not secure full power from any gasoline similar to the so-called "high-test" gasolines then on the market.

About one year ago, announcement was made that a light, volatile gasoline, so constituted as to drive the piston the full stroke under power, had been developed in the laboratories of our refinery. This product was placed on the market in Milwaukee, and a few other places, under the trade-mark name "SOLITE — A Perfect Gasoline."

It took hold at once and has been growing in popularity ever since. Solite will start instantly — it will cause your car to pick-up quickly — and yet, unlike the so-called "high-test" gasolines, it gives you all the power and speed your engine is capable of developing.

If you have not tried Solite and found out how good it is, you have missed a real motoring sensation.

SCENES AT BURIAL OF AMERICA'S WAR PRESIDENT

Wilson's casket being removed from the hearse at Bethlehem chapel for funeral services preliminary to placing the body in the crypt of the edifice.

Mrs. Wilson shown as she left the Wilson home to attend the services at Bethlehem chapel. Dressed in deep mourning and heavily veiled, she was escorted by her brother, R. Wilmer Bolling.

The final earthly journey of Woodrow Wilson. Through streets crowded by thousands who paid homage, the funeral hearse was escorted to Bethlehem chapel by pall bearers selected from the enlisted ranks of the army, navy and marine corps. These men served in a similar capacity at the Harding services.

This is the temporary resting place of Woodrow Wilson's body—Bethlehem chapel of the National Cathedral at Washington. The remains are to be housed in the crypt of this chapel, pending completion of the cathedral.

NO SOMBER WREATH adorned the door of the Wilson home. Instead, at Mrs. Wilson's request, there was this bouquet of bright yellow jonquils, mignonette and forsythia, the dead chief's favorite flowers.

WORLD WAR VETS PLAN MONUMENT FOR BOYS OF '61

JOHNSTON POST OF LEGION WILL ERECT TABLET

Veterans Of Civil War And Fathers Of Service Men Attend Meeting

Fourteen veterans of the Civil war who were guests of Oney Johnston post of the American legion at its monthly meeting in Elk hall Monday evening went away with joy in their hearts because a whim of many years—the desire to erect a monument to their departed comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic—is to be fulfilled with the new generation of veterans sponsoring the movement.

POST RESENTS INSULT TO WOODROW WILSON

Oney Johnston post of the American legion thoroughly condemned Mayor Daniel Hoan of Milwaukee at its meeting Monday night for his refusal to arise when Milwaukee common council voted to send an expression of condolence to the family of Woodrow Wilson at the time of his death. Declaring that the veterans should outspokenly resent the slur on Wisconsin's patriotism when Hoan connected the names of Wilson, the late president, and Lenin of Russia, Arthur Bunkis made a motion that the Appleton veterans adopt a resolution supporting the Milwaukee American legion members in their stand condemning the action and attitude of the Milwaukee mayor. The resolution got unanimous sanction, accompanied by a number of remarks about the insult to the war president.

and the executive committee was given full power to act so the monument may be purchased quickly and erected in time for dedication next Memorial Day.

It was dad's night also at the legion meeting and many of the members out of approximately 350 who were present brought their fathers as guests. Talks from the floor by visitors were numerous.

HEARD OF DESIRE
Mr. Keller said he read in the Post-Crescent several months ago that the G. A. R. veterans felt it their duty to their departed comrades to erect a monument of some kind on their burial plot at Riverside cemetery before they themselves passed on. They were considering a plan to raise whatever money they could. He summoned J. D. Hanchett, commander, to his office, asked him about what was wanted and declared that he would take it upon himself to interest some of the people in such a plan.

"This has been on my mind, in my heart and on my conscience ever since," said Mr. Keller. "I thought to myself, has it come to this? Have we so forgotten ourselves and our debt to the defenders of the union that the only way they can have a monument to their memory is to erect one themselves? Has our patriotism so waned that we would let affairs come to this state?"

CIVIL WAR VETS TALK

J. D. Hanchett, commander, and Dr. A. W. Kanouse, adjutant of George D. Eggleston post, G. A. R., were called upon to address the veterans. The former declared that only 28 out of 346 members of the post remained and urged veterans to stand by the women's auxiliary, for that is the organization that keeps the post alive today. Dr. Kanouse declared that a recent order from the national adjutant urged the Civil war veterans to be comrades with the younger veterans, and made a plea for joint efforts to stimulate patriotism.

Other veterans who were called upon were Gottfried Langstadt, James McCabe, Alfred Galpin and E. H. Wilder. Among the fathers who responded with talks were W. R. Johnston, father of Oney Johnston, for whom the post is named; Gustave Keller, H. C. Humphrey, Charles Weinfurter, who died in the war, and Claude Butler.

Three solos were sung by Miss Lucille Meusel, readings were given by Mrs. John Engel and music was furnished by an orchestra. Ice cream donated by Mory Ice Cream Co. was served for lunch.

Prizes in the membership campaign were presented to Clarence Prieb, Harold Kunert and Erwin Hantschel.

BOSSER RESIGNS

Alfred C. Bosser's candidacy for city attorney at the spring election to succeed Theodore Berg was revealed in his resignation as adjutant of the post. Mr. Bosser declared that his resignation was submitted because he intended to be a candidate for city attorney, and that in accordance with the constitution he could not hold a legion office while in politics.

NOTED PUBLICIST ENDS 1924 FORUM PROGRAM SUNDAY

Dr. Nehemiah Boynton Speaks In Lawrence Chapel On World Court

A special intellectual treat has been provided by the program committee of the People's Forum for the final meeting of the season Sunday evening at Lawrence Memorial chapel.

The speaker engaged for the evening is Dr. Nehemiah Boynton of New York, a lecturer of national reputation, and the subject of his address will be one that is probably the most discussed topic of the day, "The World Court."

Dr. Boynton will present the argument in favor of the world court for the purpose of bringing about permanent world peace. This speaker probably enjoys the widest reputation of any that has appeared on the forum platform this season, and is one who thoroughly understands his subject.

He is highly recommended by F. J. Harwood, Appleton manufacturer, who has known him for years, and also by J. G. Rosebush who spoke in commendation of him at the last forum meeting. Mr. Rosebush said that Dr. Boynton is permanent chairman of the American Pulp and Paper Association because of his ability, and that he is one of the most sought for and wealthiest after dinner speakers in the country.

For many years Dr. Boynton has been pastor of one of the largest churches in Brooklyn. From 1918 to 1920, he was moderator of the National Council of Congregational Churches of America. He was an army chaplain in the World war, and is one of the country's greatest advocates of world peace. Recently he returned from a world tour and a year in China.

attorney for his services as adjutant and service officer of the legion. The vacancy will be filled by the executive committee at its next meeting, when an appointment will be made.

Erotas H. Wilder, 701 Drew-st, one of the veterans of the Civil war, surprised the post by presenting a photograph of Daniel Frederick Bachman, the last survivor of the Revolutionary war, who died at the age of 102. Mr. Wilder had become personally acquainted with the veteran of '76, and desired the legion to have the picture for enlargement. The post thanked him and agreed to hang a framed picture in its hall.

PUBLIC MUST HELP IF CONTAGION IS TO BE STAMPED OUT

First Ward Parent-Teacher Association Hears Addresses By Doctors

Germ life is the basis of all contagion; not lack of sanitation, said Dr. F. F. Bowman of Madison, a representative of the state board of health, who spoke to the Parent-Teachers Association of the First ward school Monday night. Dr. Bowman's subject was "Communicable Diseases: Their Prevention and Cure." Medical authorities and health workers are looking more and more into the cause of the diseases and by this means have secured definite means of its control, he said. The first case of contagion in a community is the most dangerous, for an infected individual is always the source of more infection. Milk, food and water may be polluted, but the infected person is the danger behind all this.

Diseases, said Dr. Bowman, must carry the force of law, for contagion is always spread by the contact of the sick with the well. An old fable had it that all children must at one time or other have some disease, such as measles or whooping cough, but mothers now are realizing the danger of these seemingly minor diseases, for records show that in Wisconsin some child dies every thirty-six hours from whooping cough and every twenty-six hours from measles. The mortality rate was illustrated by charts brought here by Dr. Bowman.

NEED PUBLIC HELP
Effective health measures imply certain things, and these, said Dr. Bowman, are that people must assume responsibility and that disease must be made known. A community should have an active and interested health board and above all things, there should be cooperation. He explained the methods of prevention, especially emphasizing the use of antitoxin in the cases of diphtheria.

Another speaker on the program was Dr. H. K. Pratt, who told of the proper care of the teeth and the proper means of cleaning. Dr. Pratt emphasized the necessity of brushing the teeth three times a day, and said that the first tooth a child has should be cleaned. Too many people think that a child's teeth are of small importance, that they will soon lose the first teeth and that the second are the ones to be given careful attention. The truth of the matter is, said Dr. Pratt, that when a child reaches six years of age he already has some of

HOME ECONOMICS MENTORS OF VALLEY ELECT HEAD

Miss Catherine Spence was elected president of the Fox River Valley Home Economics association at a meeting Saturday morning in the vocational school. The secretary, Miss Vivian Morrow, was chosen last year. Margaret Johnston, state superintendent of home economics in vocational schools, participated in the round table conference. Miss Mary Orbison, school nurse for the First and Second district schools told of her work and of the field she covered. She illustrated her talk with her January report. A motion picture film dealing with the health clinics was shown, also a geographical film. This was followed by a short social hour. The association is endeavoring to secure more members, and by means of these meetings to promote interest in school children's problems. The next meeting, which is to be held the first Monday of March, will be devoted to thrift work.

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to prepare, and saves you about $2.

Pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and sealing the membranes of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup. To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and tastes very pleasant.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment. Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Be content to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

COUNTY BOARD IN SESSION HERE TODAY

All unfinished business will be disposed of and various committee reports will be heard. Outstanding bills also will be allowed. Dance hall inspectors are to be appointed, and it is possible that some changes in the dance hall ordinance will be advocated. At the last session in November the board hurriedly quashed a movement to table the ordinance until the February meeting.

STUDY LIABILITY OF SCHOOL BOARD FOR BOY'S DEATH

Attorney For Board Of Education Will Report On Board's Responsibility

Whether the board of education is legally liable for the death of Charles Nemacheck, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Nemacheck, 904 Washington-st. who became paralyzed and died as the result of a fall in the gymnasium while doing the regular class work will be determined by F. S. Bradford, attorney for the board. The matter was referred to him at the regular monthly meeting of the board of education at the high school Monday afternoon.

Members of the board expressed great regret at the loss which the Nemacheck family has suffered. When a communication was read from Mr. Nemacheck concerning the moral responsibility for the death it was referred at once to the lawyer. Mr. Bradford will be asked not only to determine the legality of the claim but to give his opinion concerning what should be done if there is no legal responsibility.

TRANSFER BOARD FUND

The board adopted a resolution authorizing the transfer of the money raised from the sale of bonds for the junior high school from the board of education to the city of Appleton. This was necessary since the erection of the schools is now in the hands of the board of public works.

Lincoln's birthday was declared by the board to be a holiday but it recommended that programs honoring the president be given in the schools. Washington's birthday also was declared a holiday and there will be no school sessions on that day.

The regular routine business and showing of bills was taken care of. There were no reports of committees. The board granted the request of Lee C. Rasey for permission to attend the superintendent's department convention of the National Education association which will take place in Chicago.

ZUEHLKE INDORSES P. O. MEN'S BENEFIT

Postmaster Zuehlke has given his hearty indorsement to Emory E. Johnson's P. O. attraction. The Mail Man, which is to be shown at the Majestic theater March 3, 4, 5 and 6, and took occasion to make a few enlightening remarks on the postal service in general.

"A clock ticks," he said. "We do not notice it. It stops. Our attention immediately turns to it. The same is true of anything to which our consciousness becomes accustomed. The mail service operates. We take it for granted as we take the tick of the clock for granted. Not until it stopped, if that were possible, would we realize the tremendous value to our daily lives. Have we no appreciation for the service that postal employees perform for us? Perhaps we have, yet we are so accustomed to receiving that service all our lives that our sense of appreciation has been deadened. We need something to revive our attention to the facts as they exist today in the conditions of life among mail clerks and carriers."

These phrases, he said, are remarkably illustrated in the picture, "The Mail Man," which is to be shown here soon. Through the courtesy of Manager Beglinger of the Majestic theater, this showing will be primarily for the Appleton postoffice benefit fund. Tickets are being sold by clerks and carriers and at postal substations.

EUROPE'S HAIRDRESSERS FAIL AMERICAN WOMEN

By Associated Press Berlin—"Permanent waves" are so hard to get on the Continent that one American woman makes two trips a year to the United States rather than entrust her hair to the uncertain efforts of the European coiffeurs.

Construction Work Here Totaled Nearly $4,000,000 In 1923

Building Reports Indicate New Record For Construction Work—220 New Homes Started During Year

The year 1923 was another banner year for building activities in Appleton. New construction alone exceeded the $2,500,000 mark which was the estimate of building operations of all kinds in the year 1922. Were one to include also the holdover construction from the previous year that was completed in 1923, the total value of all construction would be between $3,500,000 and $4,000,000.

A feature of the 1923 building activities, like that of the preceding year, was the construction of homes. A count made from a survey undertaken by mail carriers and from lumber company records showed that at least 212 homes were built in Appleton in 1923. In the year just past, however, building inspection records showed that 220 homes were built or started between March 20 and Dec. 31. An estimate made in March of last year, reported ten homes in construction before March 20, the date that building inspection under the new zoning ordinance was begun.

339 NEW GARAGES

For the first time in this city's history, it also has been possible, by means of the building inspection records to ascertain the number of private garages being built. According to the number of building permits issued, this class of construction led all others but failed to keep pace with the ever increasing number of automobiles being purchased. There were built in 1923 as many as 339 garages many of which were double garages. The count of A. C. Rule, city assessor, taken on May 1, showed an increase of 540 cars over the number reported on May 1, 1922.

During the last nine months of 1923, Robert M. Connelly, city engineer and building inspector, and his assistant, George E. Peotter, deputy building inspector, issued 759 permits, the last one of which was for the construction of the St. Joseph Home for Sisters.

Of this number, 220 were for the construction of residences and residences with garages, 318 for garages only, and the remainder for miscellaneous construction, such as stores, factories, building additions, alterations, basements and moving jobs.

ESTIMATES LOW

Value of construction as estimated in applications for permits totaled $1,798,817 for the nine months. But much of the building was estimated too low a value since many of the owners did the work themselves and therefore failed to include the cost of labor. Cost of construction was thus below actual value. This difference ranged from 10 to 15 per cent, which, added to the estimates, would raise the grand total for the year to more than $2,000,000.

The building inspector's records do not, however, include all of the construction in progress at the Riverside Fibre & Paper Co., but only about $50,000 of its $300,000 construction program. Nor do the records include the construction of the Lawest and Cherry-st bridges which is costing the city about $300,000.

Construction begun before the building inspection went into effect included an addition to the Hotel Appleton, the Gibson garage on College ave, besides about $40,000 in residential work.

Home Made Cough Mixture Best

Spreads Over Membrane, Soothes, Heals and Stops Cough Quick

Make your own cough syrup in two minutes at home if you want the best. It costs but a trifle.

Simple coughs, or stubborn coughs, it doesn't matter which, this home made mixture will stop them quicker than any expensive cough syrup you can buy ready made.

Get from Schillitz Bros. Co. or any druggist one ounce of Parmit (double strength)—to this add a little granulated sugar, as directed, and enough water to make one half pint—that's all there is to it, and children like it.

Take a soothing, healing poultice one costly substance in this home made cough mixture spreads itself completely over the membrane of the throat. This causes the most stubborn hang-on cough to cease almost instantly. No ordinary stov-acting cough syrup contains this expensive ingredient.

PROPERTY ON CAR LINES WORTH MORE

The value of business locations on street car lines is strikingly illustrated in figures compiled by the Wisconsin Public Utilities bureau of which the Wisconsin Traction Light, Heat and Power Co. is a member. The survey in Milwaukee showed that 54 concerns located on city street car lines did an average annual business of $4,221 for each 100 square feet of floor space; 213 institutions of interurban car lines did an average annual business of $3,375 per 100 square feet. While 165 concerns not on any car line did a business of only $2,421 per 100 square feet of floor space. These figures were compiled to show the increased value of property situated on street car lines.

COUNCIL INCREASES SALARY OF SIX CITY OFFICERS, EMPLOYEES

Pay Boosts Involving $1,300
Granted By Aldermen At Adjourned Meeting

Changes in salaries affecting seven city officers and employees were made by the Appleton common council Monday evening in the city hall, following a committee of the whole session. Salaries of the mayor and aldermen were left unchanged; those of the clerk, treasurer, attorney, assessor, engineer, poor keeper and matron were increased and the city hall janitor's salary was reduced. The total yearly increase brought about by the change amounts to $1,320.

The clerk, treasurer, attorney and assessor were given a straight increase of $200, the joint salary of the poor keeper and matron was raised $300, and the salary of the city engineer was raised $400 to bring it back to the standard set a year ago.

Treasurer, clerk and assessor will receive $2,300 a year, instead of $2,100, and the city attorney has been raised from $1,800 to $2,000 annually. The poor attendants' joint salary is boosted from $1,200 to $1,500. The present city engineer was given an entrance salary of $2,700 a year when he was engaged last June, but his salary has now been set at $3,100 to conform with the standard set a year ago. The city portion of the pay for the city hall janitor has been reduced from $960 to $780 a year. The library also pays $55 a month.

Aldermen, who remain unchanged here, receive $50 a quarter, plus 50 cents an hour for committee service; mayor, $1,200; city physician, $1,350; deputy health officer, $1,350; sealer of weights and measures, $1,350; weighmaster, $400; poor commissioner, $800.

No Attempt At Preaching In New Novel

BY MARY BENNETT
Cynthia Stockley's latest book, "The Garden of Peril," published by G. P. Putnam's Sons, represents a type of book which is becoming increasingly rare—a modern novel which does not attempt to solve a social problem.

"The Garden of Peril" is a romance pure and simple, set in far-off Rhodesia, with two beautiful women, a sick man, a well man, and a generous amount of love and mystery and suspense combined to produce a tale. And the tale is told in Miss Stockley's usual vivid style.

She has used a rigid economy in characters, only five people being concerned in the action. These five isolated English men and women are closely interwoven in the plot, so that their reactions upon each other are indispensable to the story.

Peril Kelly, the convent-bred heroine, strikes a welcome note of variety in these days of advanced and strenuously athletic women in fiction, by being ignorant of tennis and dancing and socially a "little out of the running." She is content to gleam out of the luxuriant warmth of the African wild "like white flowers in the cool gloom of water."

The dangerous passions to whose enjoyment Doria Heselton has given her life finally become the dominating force of the action, when Doria becomes the slave of her emotions rather than the master of them.

Punch Heselton, the dominating object of the tremendous forces of love, jealousy, and deadly hatred which Doria unleashes, is sufficiently fastidious and distinctive game for even so sophisticated a woman. Unfortunately for Doria, Punch is "so constituted that it takes something rather wonderful, both in love and war, to make his pulses quicken by the hundredth part of a second," and here is where Peril enters into the story.

And running through the whole swift-moving plot of love and intrigue in a tropical land is the pathos of the life of Pam Heselton, helpless pawn in the game the others play, and the physician who fights with him for his life.

If you have Cynthia Stockley's "Ponjola," "Poppy" and other novels you will like this one.

BRAZIL DUMPS BAD COFFEE ON MARKET

Wholesale Houses Warn Dealers That Increase in Price Is Coming

Appleton Tea and Coffee company has been notified through one of its wholesale houses that it will see more bad coffee dumped into the United States within the next six months than ever before in the history of the coffee business. In addition to this a further increase of 2 cents a pound is anticipated.

The information was contained in a circular letter which said: "Brazil controls the coffee market of the world, because she produces 65 to 70 per cent of all the coffee grown. The Brazilian government also controls the output of the planters and thereby directly dominates the situation."

"The 1922-23 Brazil coffee crop was exceedingly large, totaling probably 15,000,000 bags of Santos and 4,000,000 bags of Rio."

"According to Brazilian laws, strictly enforced, no more than 35,000 bags of good and bad Santos can be shipped each day. Selection of quality is not permitted. Every lot, no matter how good or how bad it may be, must take its regular turn in going forward to the market. A great deal of bad coffee has already been shipped to us and there is plenty more of it coming."

Dublin—One of the first publicly unveiled memorials in the Irish Free State to men who fell in the World War has been unveiled by Viscount Powerscourt at Bray, near here.

The coffee trade here, fully 75 per cent of this large Santos crop is so rain damaged as to be objectionable. No matter how careful an importer may be he simply can't help getting a majority of bad, unsatisfactory coffees.

It Never Failed Him

Veteran railroad engineer, with 56 years of unbroken service to his credit, declares Tanlac proved equal to emergency and restored his strength and energy when he was badly rundown in health.

J. F. McWaters, veteran railroad man, of 447 East Fair-St., Atlanta, Ga., who is credited with 56 years unbroken service as an engineer on the Atlanta & West Point, recently paid high tribute to Tanlac.

"Several years ago," said Mr. McWaters, "I became so run-down it looked like my chain of service might be broken before I could run out my fifty-year period. However, I resorted to Tanlac to set me right, and Tanlac proved fully equal to the emergency, quickly heading off the trouble and bringing my strength and energy right up to normal.

"Since then, when I have felt a little run-down, or 'off my feed,' as the railroad boys say, I have taken Tanlac, and it never fails to do the work I am using Tanlac now as a general tonic, and my health stays fine."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

NOTE BY SPECIAL MESSENGER FROM WALTER BURKE TO MRS. RUTH ELLINGTON

MY DEAR RUTH:

In know when I am beaten. The moment I saw Leslie Prescott enter the restaurant I knew it was all over with me.

Ruth, I have loved you. I do love you and honestly if I had not thought I could bring a little happiness into your saddened eyes. I would not have proposed the trip abroad. But I know now that you never could have been happy under the circumstances.

Your Puritanical ancestry and education would have made Regret another any joy that you might snatch surreptitiously from convention.

I am going to go abroad tomorrow. It was selfish of me to want you before, you could come to me in honor. Go back with Leslie, Ruth, and free yourself from that cur who never appreciated you.

In a year I will come for you. It is very probable that you will hear from me from time to time, but whether you hear or not, remember that perhaps the one decent thing in all my life has been my love for you.

Enclosed please find the tickets. The train goes at eight o'clock sharp. I'm glad you are a friend of Leslie's, Ruth. She is a nice little woman. I wonder if you noticed there in the restaurant that she

Adventures Of The Twins

Queer Folk In A Queer House

Nancy and Nick came to a queer-looking house down in Dixie Land. "Here, there, what's this?" cried Nick. "Every other board is gone off the sides. What do you souse has happened?"

"It must have been a storm," suggested Nancy.

"Perhaps they ran out of boards," said Nick, "and had to put them on this way to make them reach. It's a good thing Dixie Land is warm. Such an open house would never do up north. Let's look and see what's inside."

"That's not polite," said Nancy. "Suppose the people are at home. Even if they are not, it isn't nice to peep into people's houses."

"You may look all you want to," called a voice suddenly. "We've heard every word you said, anyway."

Without waiting to be asked twice, the twins put their eyes to one of the wide cracks and looked inside with all their might. There wasn't a thing to be seen but some more boards going across the space inside like clothes lines on a washing day. "We're up here!" called the same voice again. "We're up on the stick nearest the roof. Can you see now?"

"I see two brown bats hanging by their feet," said Nick.

"Well, that's us," called one of the bats. "We live here."

Nancy laughed. "Why, it's a terribly big house for such a small couple, Mrs. Bat. But if you live in the attic?"

"It's a little difficult to talk so much upside down," said Mrs. Bat. "Particularly when one is sleepy. Bartholomew and I always sleep in the daytime, being out all night doing our marketing—well, as I say, it's a little difficult to talk upside down, but if I let go with my feet, I have to fly every second and then I can't talk at all. There! I'm all out of breath!"

"And I'm glad of it," grumbled Mr. Bartholomew. "I can't get a wink of sleep for your chattering."

But it's such a big place for you," went on Nancy, not paying any attention to grumpy old Mister Bat. "Oh, it's not for us," corrected Mrs. Bat. "This is a tobacco house. It's where Mister Dixieland Farmer hangs his green tobacco leaves to dry. The tobacco isn't ready to bring in yet so we just borrowed the place. These cross-beams are so handy to hang on! Besides the wide cracks in the sides are so convenient for us to fly in and out. I'll tell you what the cracks are for. They are left there on purpose. It's so the wind can blow through and dry the tobacco when it's hanging on these sticks like clothes on a clothesline on a windy day."

"Oh, do shut up and go to sleep," growled Mister Bat again. "One of these days they'll be bringing the tobacco in and we'll be out of a home. You'd better sleep while you can."

"We're going anyway," said Nick, not minding Mister Bat's poor manners. "Goodbye!"

Left-Overs Hidden In These Dishes

Use of Imagination Will Convert Surplus Food Into Delicacies

When the larder and refrigerator seem full of little dabs of left-overs don't instigate a reckless "clearing up" but carefully take stock and use your imagination.

Most left-overs of vegetables and meats can be divided into two groups, one for salads and one for "rechauffes."

A very little bit of many vegetables can be combined in a molded jelly salad or used with lettuce and a French dressing.

Two tablespoons carrots, two of peas and a stalk of celery can be combined with one or two pickles and two or three tablespoons of carefully chopped cold meat in an aspic jelly, making a salad any woman should be proud to serve.

Cauliflower, string beans and beets can be tossed together with a smattering of onion and served on crisp lettuce with French dressing.

Canned corn is used to advantage in chowder, "sea pies" and the reheated type of dish.

SERVICE IS IMPORTANT

Often the secret of the success of the left-over dish lies in its garnishing and serving. If the salad of odds-and-ends is served on the best salad plates with as much ceremony as if it were a salad of artichokes the family will more than likely "fall for" the atmosphere of the plates rather than the salad.

A jellied salad is often more successful molded individually. This gives the cook an opportunity to consider the individual tastes of the family and apportion her left-overs accordingly.

This holds true in reheated dishes as well, and makes makeshifts invaluable to the housekeeper.

For the "rechauffes," meats can be used in croquettes, in cream sauce, on toast or patties, meat pies and stews. Often the vegetables and meat can be combined to make a palatable stew or what is known as a "sea pie."

A charlotte is always attractive and one of the cleverest ways of using up left-over meats. For this the meat is carefully minced and seasoned and combined with any gravy or stock. A mold is lined with rice or mashed potato filled with the meat preparation and covered with what ever is used for the disguise. The whole is then steamed or baked and can be served with a tomato or other pungent sauce. Individual molds are convenient for this concoction.

SEA PIE, OR STEW

A sea pie usually makes a clean sweep of the pantry, using all the meats and vegetables with what ever is used for the disguise. The covering of the pie is made of mashed potatoes, corn meal mush or a biscuit dough.

The "tail" bone of a rare porterhouse steak can be worked into a good clear soup. Cut the tail in tiny pieces, cover bone and meat with cold water, add the "soup bone" and let stand half an hour. Then bring slowly to the boiling point and let simmer an hour longer. Strain and serve very hot with a little steamed rice in each plate.

Vegetables that have been served with butter are good reheated in cream sauce. A good sprinkling of grated cheese adds to the richness of the sauce and flavor.

Fashion Designers Bring Back Picture Hat In Renewed Effort To Dethrone Cloche

BY MARIAN HALE

New York — The downward tendency in millinery is plainly demonstrated by these photographs of the latest importations from Paris.

Notice the heroic effort to put something picturesque, dashing, expensive where of late we have been wearing the simple cloche.

This new movement, however, has been going on for a season or more. The millinery business isn't what it used to be. Women aren't buying as many hats, nowadays. Style authorities have visions of women actually standardizing their headgear, as men have.

The mere thought of such a situation has caused them many a sleepless night and urged them to desperation. This spring they are going to make a determined effort to discredit the cloche and bring back the picture hat.

So Paris has unpacked the ostrich feather and brought out all the trimmings that used to delight women and ensnare men, hoping to bring about the downfall of the cloche.

There was a time when Paris could dictate to us. But American women are getting pretty independent about what they like and dislike.

So it will be interesting to watch the little fight between the plain and the fancy bonnet, and between a woman's love of comfort and her inclination toward fine feathers. And may the best hat win!

Season May Determine How Many Calories You Require In Day's Food

The scientific definition for "calorie" reads: "the quantity of heat required to raise the temperature of one pound of water through four degrees Fahrenheit." Briefly, "calorie" means heat unit and so many calories in a certain food means so much heat or so many energy-producing units in that food.

So the daily energy requirements of the body are reckoned in calories. The foodstuffs providing these calories belong to three groups—proteins, fats and carbohydrates.

The function of protein in the diet is to build, make muscle and repair worn-out tissues. Then to 15 per cent of the total calories in the normal diet should be a protein food. Eggs, oysters, beef, mutton, lamb, some nuts, poultry, fish and milk are the cheapest and commonest sources of protein. These foods are rich in protein while there are many others classed as "protein" foods containing also a fair amount of fats and carbohydrates. These combination foods are less valuable as proteins in a reducing diet.

Just as oil and fat are combustible and furnish heat so are starch and sugar or the class of foodstuffs known as carbohydrates. All starchy foods must be converted into sugar before the body can assimilate them. The mission of carbohydrates in the body is to supply heat and energy.

An excess of carbohydrates will produce fat. The normal diet should consist of about two and one-half times as much carbohydrate as fat. If the daily fat calories average 550 the carbohydrate calories should average around 1244.

HEAT AND ENERGY
Fat furnishes energy and heat and literally makes fat in the body. Too much fat in the diet causes an excess of fat in the body, but enough calories of fat must be provided to spare the protein from producing energy. In the normal diet about one-fourth of the total number of calories for the day should be fat calories. Butter, cream, salad oils, fat meat or fish, yolk of eggs, rich milk and any dishes made from these foods are rich in fat.

PERSONAL NEEDS

What charitable or medical organization is to get the house on the death of Epperson is not known publicly. In fact, it is not known that any will get it. But the fact remains that the home is so built that it can be converted easily into a hospital or orphanage. The fact also remains that Epperson frankly stated when he began work on the home that he and his wife did not expect to occupy it many years.

So Kansas City continues to wonder.

MOTHER!

Child's Best Laxative is "California Fig Syrup"

Hurry mother! Even a bilious, constipated, feverish child loves the pleasant taste of "California Fig Syrup" and it never fails to open the bowels. A teaspoonful today may prevent a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

40 ROOMS IN RICH MAN'S NEW HOME

Kansas City, Mo. — When U. S. Epperson, wealthy resident of Kansas City, decided to spend several of his declining years building a magnificent home, he took into consideration the fact that he and his wife, well along in years, could not expect to occupy the home very long.

So Epperson arranged that the home be so constructed that it could be used for institutional purposes after the death of himself and his wife.

The home, recently completed at a cost of nearly half a million dollars, contains 40 rooms that can be used for hospital wards or for other purposes. At present, the aged couple,

Obesity Endangers Long And Healthful Living, Say Experts

Insurance Statistician And Dietitian Both Hold Up Warning Finger To Those Who Would Eat Too Much And Do Too Little

Chicago — The perils of obesity, against which physicians have warned, now are held up grimly by the in-

Insurance statistician and the dietitian. "Overweight is dead weight," is their verdict.

"It costs more heart energy than it is worth," says Miss Tena S. Eckman of the Michael Reese Hospital.

"The average person's refusal to curb his appetite is offsetting all efforts at life-lengthening. Germ diseases have been reduced amazingly. Heart and kidney diseases, due to organic burdens from excess fat, have been increasing as causes of death at about 9 per cent a year.

"Prohibition has cut down alcoholism, but people have turned to candy and pastry. Both are very fattening. Golf gives healthy exercise in the open air. Then the players eat a great deal more and discount the good effect of the game."

IT'S A DUTY

Miss Eckman puts proper eating on a "duty" basis.

"It is a duty to eat certain foods," she says. "They are prunes, fresh green vegetables, coarse bread from the whole cereal, milk and eggs."

"If one felt the ill effects of poorly balanced diet as quickly as of lost sleep, the duty would be performed more faithfully."

"Certain factors must be present in every day's ration. One important item is roughage, such as is contained in brown bread and oat meal.

RESUSCITATION SAVES LIVES

BY WILLIAM CLAYNE
First Aid Instructor, Cleveland Safety Council

Don't wait for anybody or anything when you see someone apparently dead from drowning, gas poisoning, electric shock or any suffocation.

Act instantly. Place the victim in the very first convenient place and start the prone pressure method of resuscitation at once. Keep it up for at least four hours unless signs of life have appeared.

CLAYNE
1—Raise heels of patient four or five feet from ground and drop them smartly to shock system.

2—Tilt victim over on stomach, placing one arm over head and doubling other to form cushion for cheek of victim, thus providing exit for water and entrance for air. Cleanse mouth by removing false teeth, gum or any other foreign matter.

3—When victim has been in the water clasp hands under his abdomen and lift body to form inverted V for a count of about 20.

4—Kneel beside victim, facing his head, and with your knees at same location as the victim's.

5—Place the palms of your hands on the lower ribs of the victim with your thumbs parallel to your fingers. Thumbs straight out at right angles to fingers weaken your strength and rub skin off victim.

6—Throw your weight forward, applying pressure to victim's back by keeping your arms stiff at elbow.

7—Say, "Out goes the water."

8—Remove your weight from victim's back.

9—Repeat, making both application of weight and removal of weight snappy and timed with the two sayings given.

10—Keep the body warm.

Every five minutes have an assistant slap the victim's feet about 20 times with a stick.

Do not stop or interrupt resuscitation until victim breathes or stiffening of body sets in.

Space Is Saved If Kitchen Is Well Arranged

House builders and planners have recently discovered that one very good place to save space is in the kitchen. But the small kitchen is a failure, a source of endless worry to the housewife who tries to work in it. It is not planned with care and equipped with well-planned shelves and cupboards. In the small kitchen carelessness in this direction usually means confusion.

We have grown accustomed to having the space beneath sink and drain boards left exposed. Most of us remember the old-time cupboards beneath the old-time kitchen sink—a rather damp, distressed place at best.

Most housewives kept the scouring board there—with an accumulation of scouring bricks, and little cloths for cleaning knives. Fortunately these unsightly cupboards were ripped out when open plumbing came into fashion. Still there is space beneath sink and drain board that can be used to advantage in the very small kitchen. There can be an open place directly around the pipes with cupboards at each side. The cupboard should of course have doors to keep out dust when sweeping. Properly fitted with cupboard doors this offers a good enough place to keep all bulky baking dishes and cooking dishes—the vegetable press, the meat grinder, etc.

The space over a door offers a not inappropriate space for a shelf if you really are at loss for room in your small kitchen. Remember that this

LAWRENCE QUINTET BATTLES CARROLL HERE FRIDAY

Waukesha Collegians Seek Revenge On Blue For Overtime Defeat

Lawrentians Had Hard Time Defeating Veteran Quintet By Two Points In Overtime Contest

After easily smothering Concordia under an extremely lopsided score under last week, Lawrence cagers are due to have a much harder and more exciting contest on the Armory G court when Carroll college of Waukesha sends its strong quintet here Friday. If past performances may be used as an indication, the Friday contest will be a thriller.

Carroll has been going strong in athletics for the past two years, and has made its mark in basketball records stand out especially. In their game with the Carolites at Waukesha several weeks ago, the Lawrence team were forced to go the limit to win an overtime game from the veteran cagers. According to press reports the battle was one of the closest in Little Five history, and only a long shot from midrange by Zussman broke the tie at the moment before the final gun marked the end of the overtime period.

CARROLL HAS TEAM OF VETS

Led by the diminutive but speedy Sterr, Carroll this year has the strongest team in its history. Kuran, ex-captain of several years ago, who returned to school this year is Sterr's running mate at forward. Dugan started against the Blue and White at Center, with four baskets to his credit. Dickelman and Schultz at guard complete the lineup of veterans; with Stacy, Black and Todd as substitutes.

Coach A. C. Denney is confident the Blues will be able to repeat their previous victory. Despite that he has not let up in his drill, and is pointing his string for a hard contest. The addition of Ashman, Heideman, Mills, Kosbab and Briese has strengthened the Lawrence team considerably since these freshmen became eligible, Feb. 1. Heideman and Ashman played wonderful games against Concordia, breaking the tie in the fourth quarter. The Blue and White last week threw a scare into the championship Beloit quintet which will give that outfit something to think about.

FIFTH WARD FIVE HUMBLERS FIRSTS

Fifth Ward Grade School cagers Saturday walked away from the First Warders, 23 to 15, in an exciting basketball contest played in the Fourth ward gymnasium. The Fifth Warders forced their way to a 14 to 4 lead in the first half when Kruse, forward, made three fieldgoals and two freethrows, and Johnston, center, twice caged the ball from the field. Agrell, forward, scored four points in the first half, and scored the four points for their aggregation.

In the second half, Johnston and Kruse again starred with two baskets apiece. In addition, Johnston dropped the ball through the ring for a freethrow and Bruch, guard, also caged it once from the field. The Fifth Warders' scoring to equal the First Warders' scoring in the second half. D. Agrell, center, and C. Agrell, forward, each made two pretty shots from under the basket, and Strutz, forward, made one. C. Agrell also made a freethrow.

Marston Wins Fails To Put Him With Aces

Although Max Marston won the national amateur golf championship at Flowmoo last summer few will concede that he deserves to be ranked No. 1 among the amateurs of the country.

Marston is a fine golfer, but he hardly ranks above Bobby Jones in the opinion of most championships at Inwood. And in the opinion of most critics Marston is not entitled to displace Chick Evans of Chicago, who is only a stroke or so behind Jones in skill. Due to his victory in the national, Marston is properly rated in third position, behind Jones and Evans.

John Sweetser is at home in fourth place and Francis Outmet in fifth. From this point on the classification becomes a matter of opinion.

GLEASON LAUDS WILLIE KAMM AS STAR INFIELDER

"Kid" Says Rookie Thirder Is Only Novice Who Delivered Goods

Philadelphia — Of all the highly touted, fancy priced minor league stars who debuted in the big league last season, Willie Kamm was the only one who really delivered as a regular. At that, Kamm failed to hit .300.

Will Kamm prove to be a more valuable player to the White Sox the coming season?

Kid Gleason, former manager of the Chicago club, who winters here is one of the wise guys who is positive that Kamm will be a much improved ball player.

"The Chicago club made no mistake in paying a big price for Kamm. He is worth every cent. Consistently cut loose with. In some ways, Kamm didn't quite come up to expectations, notably in hitting, but he will be more dangerous this summer."

"Perhaps no player ever hit the big show with more press agentry preceding him than did Kamm. There is no doubt that so much publicity hurt, because it made Kamm feel that he must constantly be doing big things at bat and in the field."

"He's one of the greatest third basemen of all time and will prove it inside of a few years."

Austin Can Stand More Than Jack Zwick's Best, Battling Nelson Claims

Manager Of Michigan Flash Cites Record Of Jimmy To Show He Has Taken Harder Blows Than The Sheik Can Give

Battling Nelson, manager of Jimmy Austin, Michigan flash who headlines the fight card at Armory G Thursday night with Jack Zwick, has resorted to his trusty pen and indited an epistle to the Post-Crescent which sets forth his claims and aspirations for his charge. According to Nelson who is a former welterweight champ himself, Austin is a corner and expects to give the Kaukauna Sheik a hard evening. He appears to be afraid Zwick may be overweighed, but according to Patry Callahan, the sheik's manager, that detail will be arranged by the day of the fight.

Following is the letter:

Sporting Editor, Post-Crescent—

Dear Sir: Jimmy Austin, the Streator, Ill. boy who meets Jack Zwick in the 10 round main go at Appleton, Thursday, Feb. 14, is going good in his daily training. They are to do 148 lbs but Austin is always way under that when in shape. Jimmy has been using the best punches available and has already taken harder punches than Zwick can deliver. He has boxed such men as Johnny Bresnahan, heavy; Tillie "Kid" Herman, welter; Battling Siki the colored sensation of Paris, and in fact, all who cared to box him. For speed Jimmy used Billy Knowles, the Spanish 115 pound sensational flash; Teddy Drake, speedy lightweight and others Saturday I had Jimmy training at Morgenroth's in Milwaukee where he boxed Johnny Mendelsohn for a good workout to both of them Austin shows the stuff by which he beat the best around Michigan including Abie Thompson, twice; Red McLaughlin, Mike Snyder, George Austin, Soldier Pickard and others. He is wanted back again soon at several Michigan clubs.

No doubt you remember how I used Jimmy Nikols a years ago at Fond du Lac and slipped Jack Zwick an awful lacing, the first defeat Zwick had. I'm not saying much but I think I have a better prospect in Jimmy Austin who is in my own management. And from the offers I'm getting I believe Austin will be as busy as any man in the game. We hope Zwick is in good shape so the fans will get a good run for their money. I know Austin will "deliver" and you know I make very few errors. Another thing is that I'll demand Zwick be at weight and not come in as a middleweight to fight a light welter. We are saying little but you watch our smoke. We will be there every afternoon or Wednesday evening at latest. Hope to see a good crowd as I feel positive it will be a pretty good bout.

I am, Sincerely, Battling Jack Nelson. (Former Welterweight Champion Boxer)

HERBIE BEST SOUTHPAW IN LEAGUE, SAYS BABE

"I regard Herbie Pennock as the best southpaw in the American League," says Babe Ruth. "I am glad I am playing the same club with him. When Miller Huggins secured him from the Red Sox he made the Yankees' pitching staff Pennock, more than any other man on the Yankees, made possible our recent world series victory over the Giants. He rounded out our ball club. His victory, after the Giants had trimmed us game after game, was the turning point in the series." Some compliment from Babe Ruth.

ST. PAUL CAGERS DEFEAT KIMBERLY INDEPENDENTS

Kimberly Independents Monday were given credit for a 4 to 3 victory over the St. Paul Lutheran Young Peoples quintet through an error in the report sent the Post-Crescent. St. Paul team was the victor 4 to 3, over the Independents in the curtain raiser to the Kohler-Kimberly MIH contest at Kimberly.

Cincinnati—Young Stribling, Macon, Ga. light heavyweight, defeated Jake Schoendorf of Milwaukee in ten rounds.

Canton, O.—Johnny Karr, Cleveland welterweight, outpointed Jack Britton, former title holder, in ten rounds according to sport writers.

George Jimos	173	184 .484

YANKEES WOULD MAKE TRADE FOR SOX OUTFIELDER

Bob Falk Named By Miller Huggins As Player Desired In 1923

Chicago—Bib Falk, White Sox outfielder, may figure in a deal that will take him to the New York Yankees. Huggins named Falk as one of the players he desired, when a trade between the Sox and Yanks was the big topic in baseball a year back. The Yankee leader is still strong for Falk, believing he has great possibilities.

Despite great natural ability, Falk has failed to come up to expectations as a White Sox. Rumor has it that he has been dissatisfied with his berth for several years. Falk came to the White Sox as a pitcher, direct from a southern college. Because of his ability to hit, he was converted into an outfielder.

While Huggins has plenty of outfield material, he would be more than willing to take over Falk. In return, however, he hasn't much to offer but cash and the Sox are looking for players.

Knowing that Falk has great prospects, Frank Chance is said to favor holding him over until he can decide the issue. Chance realizes the weakness of the White Sox in the outfield and evidently has no intention of letting a likely player get away from him.

DOUBLE NUMBER ON APPLETON HIGH'S WEEKEND SCHEDULE

Orange Quintet Invades East Green Bay Friday, Neenah Saturday

Appleton High school which last week fell by the wayside when Fond du Lac walked off with an 18 to 10 victory on the Fondy court, this week has a chance to redeem itself at East Green Bay Friday, and plays Neenah there Saturday.

The Fond du Lac disaster was the first defeat chalked up against the local youngsters and shunted them into second place, half a game behind the Red and White. Fond du Lac bucks Mantowoc this week, and has brilliant prospects of keeping its lead, even though the Orange humbles East Green Bay, which is more than likely. The Baymen are tied with Manitowoc for fourth place in the Valley conference, and have not been going very well this year. Unless they stage a comeback Friday, the Appleton men will at least keep their hold on second place.

The Saturday contest promises plenty of excitement. Appleton humbled Neenah some weeks ago in a new race, but whether Coach Wilson's youngsters will be able to repeat is another question. The Neenah men were at a slight disadvantage playing on a strange floor here, while this week the handicap will be in their favor.

After last week's defeat, Coach Wilson has redoubled his drills, and the players are working hard to come out of their slump, and back into their earlier form.

Strangler Lewis fled from the ring when Battling Siki tried to kiss him.

It is just possible the strangler forgot this is leap year.

Cleveland councilman demands to know difference between prizefight and boxing match. Question should be referred to Mr. Fall, who is currently engaged in explaining difference between $100,000 gift and $100,000 loan.

That New Orleans beauty who lost $500,000 love suit shouldn't worry. She still has her amateur standing.

We shall reserve our judgment of Alexis Ivanovich Rykoff, new leader of Russians, until we learn exactly how he stands on lively ball situation.

Many critics insist Dempsey is overrated. Among those who don't are Messrs. Dunn and Bradstreet.

TOMAHAWK ASKS STATE AID ON $150,000 BRIDGE

Tomahawk—This city is planning to take up with the state highway commission the matter of financing a bridge across the Wisconsin river in Frenchtown. The city financed its new Fourth street bridge, built a year ago, but lack of funds in the state coffers for this purpose may prevent Tomahawk's building a new bridge in 1924. The bridge is estimated to cost $150,000.

MILWAUKEE CUEIST HUMBLER BALKLINE CHAMP OF ILLINOIS

Alex Elmslie Shows Chicago Fans Some Real Cue Work In Brilliant Victory

Chicago—Alex Elmslie who makes his home in Milwaukee and once upon a time disported the championship of the state of Wisconsin, invaded Chicago Monday and treated the citizens to some real balking billiards.

The occasion was the beginning of the first annual western class, A 18.2 tournament at Mussey's Madison-st. room.

Elmslie engaged E. W. Campbell, who recently relieved James Peabody of the Illinois state championship. After 25 innings of sound playing the man from Milwaukee won decisively, 250 to 92. It wasn't so much the fact that he won that impressed the fact. He averaged an even 10 and made high runs of 49, 42, and 40. Campbell's best inning was productive of a cluster of 16.

Robert M. Lord of this city, the national amateur 3-cushion champion and Ray Fessenden of Madison, the present Wisconsin champion were the other winners.

Lord defeated Peabody 250 to 112. The game consumed 30 innings with the winner making a high run of 47 and the loser 16. Fessenden out-cue'd W. Nelson, former Illinois champion, 250 to 249. It was an honest, to goodness battle all the way. It took 36 innings. Fessenden made a run of 26 and Nelson one of 18.

W. L. P. P. M.—Fessenden vs. Peabody; 5 P. M.—Elmslie vs. Nelson; 8 P. M.—Lord vs. Campbell.

RED PEPPER FOR RHEUMATIC PAIN

Red Pepper Rub takes the "ouch" from sore, stiff, aching joints. It cannot hurt you, and it certainly stops that old rheumatism torture at once.

When you are suffering so you can hardly get around, just try Red Pepper Rub and you will have the quick-concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers. Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you will feel the tingling heat in three minutes it warms the sore spot through and through. Pain and soreness are gone.

Ask any druggist for a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name Rowles on each package. adv.

De Hart Hubbard, Michigan's colored track ace has chance to hang up new records.

De Hart Hubbard, Michigan's colored track ace and field star, hopes to hang up a new mark in the running broad jump this year. And many there are who believe the Cincinnati boy will turn the trick, too.

Last season, his initial one with the Wolverines, Hubbard came within an inch and a half of equaling the record of 25 feet 2 inches made by Red Gordin of Harvard a few seasons ago. Inability to hit the take-off properly is Hubbard's chief fault. If he can overcome this failing he is almost certain to put over a new record for this event. On one occasion Hubbard was credited with leaping some 25 feet 5 1/2 inches, only to have the jump disallowed because he overstepped the leaping board.

Oddly enough, the three greatest broad jumpers American colleges have seen of recent years have all been colored boys. Besides Hubbard, there were Gordin and Sol Butler.

In competition Hubbard has beaten both of the other two. Obviously Hubbard looms as America's best Olympic bet in the broad jump. He should be heard from in a record-breaking way, too.

HOUSE LEADERS LINING UP FOR REVENUE FIGHT

Republican Chieftains Lose Faith In Popularity Of Mellon Proposal

LOOK FOR HIGHER MAXIMUM

Coolidge Letter Indicates President Is Inclined To Liberal Attitude

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—House leaders were busy lining up their forces Tuesday for the opening of the floor contest over revenue bill which will be taken up Thursday.

Though Republican chieftains have declared after a poll of the delegations that it appears impossible that the surtax rates of the bill—the same as recommended by Secretary Mellon—can stand, proponents of the treasury measure are preparing to fight it out.

MAY RAISE MAXIMUM
Announcement by Representative Longworth, Republican floor leader, that a higher maximum surtax rate than the 25 per cent in the bill undoubtedly will have to be adopted, was followed Monday by publication of a letter of Secretary Mellon to Representative Dacey, Democrat, Ohio, in which it was said that President Coolidge's decisions on the tax bill "have indicated he is disposed to a liberal attitude."

Backers of the Mellon income rates are planning their hopes on obtaining a record vote. With these rates already in the bill, any vote which would be made under normal procedure, Representative Longworth has pointed out, would be on amendments and unless the amendments were adopted the original rates would stand.

DISMISS PLEA FOR CHANGE IN VERDICT

Brandt's Effort To Secure Judgment On Claim Denied By Court

Judge A. M. Spencer, in municipal court on Monday denied the motion of the plaintiff in the case of G. J. Brandt against Edward Beckman to change the answer to a question in special verdict returned by a jury a few days ago and dismissed the case.

The suit involved the claim of Mr. Brandt for $600 alleged to be due from Beckman as commission on the trade of a hotel and a farm. The jury held, in answer to a question in the special verdict that A. Kornely, one of the agents in the transaction, was not ready and willing to consummate the deal. The answer had the effect of invalidating Brandt's claim and he attempted to have the court make the change.

Attorney Mark S. Catlin represented Mr. Brandt and Keller and Keller appeared for Beckman.

ROTARY CONCLAVE WORK CONTINUES

Sensenbrenner Is Made Committee Chairman In Place Of Kahn, Who Is Ill

Leslie Sensenbrenner was made chairman of the registration committee for the Tenth district Rotary conference at a meeting of four of the committees following dinner at Hotel Northern Monday evening. He will serve in place of Julius Kahn, who is ill.

Members of the boy scout, automobile, registration and information committees, 12 men in all, were present to talk over their work with the executive committee for the big gathering here in April. The purpose was to prevent overlapping of the activity and gain a better idea of the convention needs.

The publicity committee, of which E. N. Smith is chairman, held a joint meeting with a special chamber of commerce publicity committee, following a dinner at Hotel Appleton. Arrangements were made for sending out invitations to each Rotarian in the district.

Thirty-four former members of the Rotary club, headed by J. D. Steele, are joining forces to help carry out the work of entertaining the conference, which will bring approximately 2,000 visitors here in April. These men probably will hold a meeting soon to outline the work they will do. It is the plan of the executive committee to hold an evening meeting of the club soon with wives of Rotarians present to check up the progress in convention arrangements to date among both men and women.

DOUBLE TAX IS ILLEGAL, STATE COURT DECIDES

Judiciary Upholds Right To Assess Increase Of 10 Per Cent On Back Incomes

By Associated Press
Madison—Provisions of the state income tax law authorizing the state tax commission to double the taxes for back assessments, was held to be unconstitutional by the Wisconsin Supreme Court in a decision handed down Tuesday morning.

Although the court held the double assessment provision unconstitutional, it upheld the authority of the state body to add 10 per cent interest on back assessments. Surtaxes, the court declared, are apart of the income tax and the state commission has authority to assess such taxes.

The decision held that section 11.10 10 of the income laws does not discriminate in favor of joint stock associations and that this provision is constitutional.

The commission also has power to go back and reassess omitted incomes to Jan. 1, 1915, the court declared, and thereby upheld authority of the state legislature to set a specific date to which the commission may reassess.

The three year limitation on the tax commission which was in effect before amendments of 1923 is not a statute of limitations in favor of the income owner, it was held. Further, the commission has no authority to consider offsets for personal property, the court declared in an opinion in the S. Heymann case.

MAN GONE 10 YEARS; ASK FOR INSURANCE

Arguments in the case of Bertha Gugler versus the Aid Association for Lutherans were concluded before Judge Edgar V. Werner in circuit court Monday. The plaintiff is suing for $1,000 insurance benefit which is alleged to be due her and the interest which is said to have accrued from it. The contention of the Aid association, which is represented by Attorney O. C. Rentner of Chicago, is that proof of the death of Mrs. Gugler's husband has not been established, and the rules of the association do not warrant benefits for persons who have merely disappeared. A decision in the case will be rendered by Judge Werner. Mr. Gugler has been missing about ten years.

WERNER REVERSED IN $3,000 CASE BY SUPREME COURT

Pettibone-Peabody Co. Loses Case Appealed by New York Corporation

The Supreme court of Wisconsin, in a decision handed down in Madison Tuesday morning, reversed the decision of Judge Edgar V. Werner in the case of the Pettibone-Peabody Co. of New York against the Pettibone-Peabody Co., alleging breach of contract, and ordered judgment for the plaintiff. Judge Werner had directed a verdict for the Pettibone-Peabody Co. when the case was heard here.

The New York corporation charged in its complaint that it had sent a quantity of silk to the local concern but which the Pettibone company refused, contending it had no contract. The Stehl corporation, held, however, that the correspondence between the companies constituted a contract. Judge Werner also held that there was no contract and directed a verdict against the plaintiff. An appeal was taken and the high court reversed the local judge. The silk company sued to recover the difference between the price the silk was sold for in the open market and the contract price. About $8,000 was involved.

Attorneys Ryan and Cary represented the New York company while Bradford and Bradford appeared for the defendant.

Two other cases of major importance, appealed from Judge Spencer's court to the Supreme court, were passed in the decisions handed down Tuesday morning. They are Bloomer vs. Cicerio Mutual Fire Insurance Co. and First National bank vs. court. A decision is expected at a later date.
